

Freshman Froehlich nearly misses first roll call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold V. Froehlich, a former legislative leader from Wisconsin, wandered along the unfamiliar aisles of the House of Representatives and almost missed his first roll call Wednesday.

The freshman congressman, a Republican lawyer from Appleton, had strolled beyond hearing distance of the call, and had to be summoned a second time before he responded.

The former speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly complained about the boring length of roll calls.

"I can't wait until we get electronic voting," he said.

Froehlich is the successor to Republican House veteran John Byrnes, who decided last year not to seek re-election.

The newcomer was reported in the running with approximately a dozen new representatives for vacancies on the House Interstate Committee and the Foreign Commerce Committee.

He is keeping a home in suburban McLean, Va. His office is in one of the three House office buildings, and he says he is avoiding using the subway that links the building with the Capitol.

"I haven't tried to get to the Capitol on the subway and I don't want to get lost," he said.

He was introduced to veteran congressmen by one of his former political rivals from the Wisconsin legislature, Democratic Rep. David Obey.

The Democrat sports a beard and mustache, which have become Washington fashion. Froehlich said he intends to remain clean-shaven.

"I grew a beard for the Appleton centennial, and it came out red," he said. "My wife didn't like the idea of my trying it again."

Shortly after being sworn in, Froehlich was confronted by Ginny Flom of Appleton, whose husband is believed to have been a prisoner of war in Vietnam since 1966.

Mrs. Flom said a solution to the POW problem "has to be found. I am pleading for them. I am not here as part of any group. I here as an individual."

"What can I tell her? What can I do to help?" Froehlich remarked to an interviewer.

Froehlich said he hadn't decided how he would vote on the antiwar issues being submitted to Congress.

Tax reform to undergo close study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sweeping review of the Internal Revenue Code, leading to a tax-reform bill for House consideration this summer, is planned by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But Mills cautioned, in an interview, against expecting either a substantial increase in government revenues or a general lowering of taxes to result from the reforms.

"I don't think you increase revenues by tax reform," the Arkansas Democrat said. "You usually find that a gain here is offset by a loss there." And, he added, in its present fiscal situation the country cannot afford an over-all tax cut of any size.

Mills said he expects to begin hearings by late January or early February, depending on how quickly the new House completes its organization, and to continue about six weeks.

He said the review of tax laws will have no particular targets, but in discussing possibilities he indicated some areas that might get special attention:

—Reform of estate and gift taxes, with emphasis on discouraging such devices as trusts which relieve one generation of tax liabilities.

—Capital gains. Mills has suggested

Revised credit laws proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission has proposed major revisions in the consumer-credit field to make credit cheaper and easier to get, but members said the panel was not unanimous in its recommendations and urged caution in adopting them.

The head of the National Commission on Consumer Finance said in a report to Congress Wednesday that the chief goal is to promote greater competition in the consumer-credit market.

"Only once workable competition is achieved can rates be left free from regulation," said commission chairman Ira M. Millstein, a New York City attorney.

The panel urged free entry into the market by small loan companies, savings and loan firms, banks on competitive terms and retail businesses.

The commission, created by Congress in 1968, is composed of three members appointed by the president, three senators appointed by the president of the Senate and three congressmen named by the speaker of the House.

In its lengthy report, the commission made 85 recommendations to safeguard both consumer and lender rights including elimination of harassing collection methods and restrictions on such practices as garnishment and repossession.

"Because credit is so important to American consumers, the commission believes that it should be available to every creditworthy applicant on a non-discriminatory basis," the report said.

It urged states to prevent "widespread instances of unwarranted discrimination in the granting of credit to women," and called for treatment of the basic causes of poverty and unemployment to handle the problem of granting more credit to poor people.

It said it found no evidence of widespread racial discrimination, but concluded that lenders often must deny credit to worthy consumers because of "difficulties creditors have in collecting debts in certain areas of inner cities."

Rep. Lenor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., a member of the panel and principal author of legislation that created the commission, told a news briefing the panel has done valuable work, but she said she hopes state legislatures won't rush into action hastily.

"I don't think any of us are completely happy with the final report," she said. "Most of the recommendations are staff recommendations, which is probably inevitable in the case of a commission of this sort."

Millstein conceded that the panel never voted on the full slate of recommendations, which he said should be taken as a unit.

"We didn't see our job as making everyone happy," Millstein told the briefing. "You can't cherry-pick this report, taking what you like and discarding what you don't like. It is an integrated report."

President Nixon issued a statement calling the report "good news for all Americans" and pledging close attention to its proposals.

"It is the wide availability of consumer credit which permits consumers to finance major purchases out of current income and thus enables our industries to develop and offer many more products than they could otherwise," Nixon said.

Official peace talks reopen with dispute

PARIS (AP) — The semipublic Vietnam peace talks resumed today with a sharp clash between the Communists and the South Vietnamese over the peace agreement Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho drafted in October.

Hanoi called for the United States to sign the agreement "promptly," but Saigon denounced the draft as a "disguised victory" for North Vietnam.

Saigon's representative renewed its demand that Hanoi recognize the existence of two sovereign states in Vietnam, Dinh Ba Thi of the Viet Cong said this was "utterly absurd" and a "U.S. maneuver to deny the fact that there now exists in South Vietnam two administrations, two armies and three political forces."

The chief U.S. delegate, Ambassador William J. Porter, called on the negotiators to lay aside the bitterness that has marked past sessions and turn toward reconciliation in what he called the concluding phase of the war.

Deputy negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy of North Vietnam issued a sharp retort at the end of the session, telling newsmen:

"While B52s continue carpet bombing on the territory of our country, provoking mourning and devastation, today at this conference the American delegate tells us this is not the moment for rancor but is the moment to heal the wounds.

"We told the American delegate that if the United States wants to close the gap between its acts and its words, it must renounce its aggressive aims and acts of war and immediately proceed to sign without delay the agreement to which it has given its consent."

Saigon Ambassador Pham Dang Lam told the 172nd session of the semipublic Paris peace talks. "Unless they admit that their design is to achieve the reunification of Vietnam their way and to place the whole of Vietnam under their domination, the Hanoi authorities cannot fail to acknowledge that there are two distinct states of Vietnam."

He said both are "internationally recognized, each having its own political regime and exercising its sovereignty on its own territory, as in the cases of the two Germanys and the two Koreas."

The four party talks resumed today after a two week suspension. Their renewal was a preliminary to the resumption Sunday of peace negotiations between U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo.

Lam told the Communists, "The intransigence which you displayed in the last negotiations and the insistence with which you demanded the immediate signing of the draft agreement without any changes led one to think that you sought rather a disguised victory which would allow the Hanoi Communist regime to maintain the North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam, to perpetuate interference in the internal affairs of the country and to extend domination over the whole of Vietnam, objectives which you were not able to achieve through the force of arms."

"It was because of this reason that you opposed setting up an international control mechanism equipped with adequate means and having the desirable freedom of action, that is to say, susceptible of carrying out its role effectively."

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter told the meeting the new year should mark "the concluding phase of this protracted conflict" in Vietnam but added he did not "underestimate the problems which exist and which will face us still for some time."

Porter said the past four years of negotiations had been "largely sterile exchanges, which only developed last October into a phase which he called today described as a serious negotiating process."

Students rioting in Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Riot police reinforcements arrived at suburban Ein Shams University today as about 1,000 protesting students vowed to remain on the closed campus unless authorities drive them out or release their imprisoned friends.

The students remained in defiance of a government decree temporarily closing all universities and institutes of higher education because of bloody clashes Wednesday afternoon at Cairo University.

The students are demanding greater freedom of expression.

Several students and police were injured and a few students were seen being loaded into police vehicles at Ein Shams this morning. But during the early afternoon witnesses said, all appeared quiet.

Earthquakes under study

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — Earthquake forecasts as reliable and precise as hurricane warnings will be feasible in 10 years or earlier, a U.S. Geological Survey research chief predicts.

"We are on the threshold of spectacular breakthroughs. We anticipate success," Jerry L. Eaton said Wednesday in an interview. Eaton is chief of the survey's office of earthquake research and crustal studies.

Japanese and Russian research efforts also are progressing on a major scale, Eaton said, and those nations are pooling their information with that developed by American scientists.

Laser and computer instruments developed since the great Alaska earthquake of Good Friday 1964 make it possible to record minute fault creeping and to detect symptoms of fault failure, Eaton said.

"With laboratory simulation of rock-strain endurance, plus other clues, we can construct computer models of when there must be a failure in a fault locking system," he said.

B52, F111 lost in continuing bombing

BY GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today announced the loss of another B52 heavy bomber and another F111 fighter-bomber in the air war against North Vietnam.

It also reported that the recent air blitz on Hanoi and Haiphong pushed the total number of Americans killed, missing or captured during the last three weeks of 1972 to 109, the greatest number of American war casualties in two years.

The South Vietnamese Command reported 116 enemy attacks across the country during the past 24 hours, including 82 rocket and mortar attacks. It was the highest 24-hour total in two months; but most, apparently, were small. First reports from the Saigon command said four civilians were killed and 43 wounded; no American casualties were reported.

The U.S. Command said the B52 crashed today after being hit during a mission over the southern panhandle of North Vietnam. All six crewmen parachuted into the Tonkin Gulf and were rescued. It was the 16th of the eight jet Stratofortresses to be shot down since Dec. 18, when President Nixon shifted most of the B52 force to the attack on North Vietnam.

The command also belatedly announced the loss west of Hanoi of another $15-million F111 fighter-bomber on Dec. 22, during the air blitz on the Hanoi and Haiphong area that ended last weekend. The command said the two crewmen were missing. Other sources said they were known to have parachuted before their plane crashed and were believed to have been captured.

This raised to 30 the number of U.S. aircraft lost to North Vietnamese fire since Dec. 18. Ninety-seven American airmen have been lost in these crashes, making the Hanoi-Haiphong blitz the costliest aerial campaign of the war.

The U.S. Command backed off from releasing a completed report of bomb damage caused by the American raids on Hanoi and Haiphong, apparently because of political repercussions. It was learned that the Nixon administration ordered the report withheld.

The command issued a report last week for the first week of the blitz and indicated it would follow up with a report today covering the five days before Nixon ordered bombing halted above the 20th parallel on Dec. 30.

However, North Vietnam broadcast a report that a preliminary survey showed 1,318 persons were killed and 1,261 wounded by the U.S. raids on Hanoi. It charged that the B52s had now turned to "carpet bombing" population centers in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam since the bombing halt above the 20th parallel.

Publicist reveals names of best dressed winners

BY ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Richard Nixon was suggested for the International Best Dressed list of men and women for 1972, but she was not selected.

The winners, 29 women and 30 men, were voted in by some 2,000 fashion designers, social and theatrical personalities and the fashion press, throughout the world. It was announced Wednesday, by publicist Eleanor Lambert.

Among the five women who were added to the Fashion Hall of Fame, was Mrs. David Nixon, New York socialite.

"I think Pat Nixon's a lovely-looking woman. She has a beautiful figure, lovely hair and skin. But her look is too contrived, too studied. I think her hair is too bouffant. I've love to see it blow in the wind," said Mrs. Evans.

"Mrs. Nixon is obviously beautifully dressed, beautifully turned out," commented Nancy White, former editor of Harper's Bazaar, now with Bergdorf Goodman Co. and a member of the committee which counted the ballots.

Mrs. Nixon's name was included in a list of suggested candidates on this year's ballot. Last year, it was not included on the ballot.

Entertainer Cher, actress Twiggy and Liza Minnelli, singer-actress who starred in "Cabaret," were dropped from the list. Two women from the show business world were added: Mrs. Mick Jagger, wife of the rock star, and actress Marisa Berenson.

"When you have a personality, it shines through the clothes, but you notice the clothes, too. They're all of a piece, as opposed to being boxed in, in nice fashion house, instead of your own home. I think that's the tenor of this year's list," said Miss White.

Joining Miss Berenson and Mrs. Jagger as best-dressed women are Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the governor of California; Mrs. Henry Ford II of Detroit and Mrs. William Buckley, Jr., wife of the author, columnist and television commentator.

Others include Baroness Thierry van Zuylen, Paris socialite, Mrs. Samuel P. Reed, Jr., daughter of Mrs. Charles Engelhard, Jr.; H.R.H. Princess Salma Khan, wife of the Aga Khan; Mrs. Ronaldo Herrera, Jr., Caracas, Venezuela; Mrs. Frederick Melhado, New York; Signora Gianluigi Gabetti, Milan, Italy, wife of the head of Olivetti Co.; and Mrs. William Clay Ford, of Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

Along with Mrs. Evans, the Fashion Hall of Fame members are Mrs. Charles Engelhard Jr., of New York, wife of the late metals magnate and sportsman; Mr. Graham Martinson of Paris and New York, wife of the international financier; Mme. Gres, Paris couturiere and Mrs. Richard Pistell, New York socialite.

"I see many women who buy the best clothes, so why shouldn't they be on the list too? But they're not. The question is how you carry the clothes, how you mix colors and a certain casualness. Elegance has to be casual, too," said Armando Orsini, New York restaurateur, who was named to the men's list.

Actor Robert Redford is back on the list of best dressed men.

"I don't feel especially comfortable in new clothes, and I don't like severe, trendy clothes. I lean toward western attire," said Redford, in a telephone call from Utah.

He added that he had to mention a hand cast as part of his wardrobe, as he'd recently had a skiing accident.

Also on the men's list are Fred Hughes, connected with Andy Warhol Enterprises, and Richard Roundtree, film star in the movie "Shaft." Mr. Hughes has a dressed up, 1930s look and Mr. Roundtree likes brightly-colored turtle necks and suede suits made in Madrid by Mitzou.

Others on the men's list are Gianni Bulgari, Italian jeweler; Mayor John Lindsay, New York; Billy Baldwin, New York interior decorator; David Mahoney, chairman of Norton Simon, Inc.; Robert Evans, movie executive; Mick Jagger, rock star; John Gallier, international socialite; David Susskind, TV personality and Armando Orsini, New York restaurateur.

New Hall of Fame members are actors Harry Belafonte and Sidney Poitier; Baron Alexis de Rede, Paris financier and socialite; Robert L. Green, fashion director of a men's magazine; David Ogilvy, the Earl of Airle, and his brother the Hon. Angus Ogilvy, husband of Princess Alexandra of Kent.

The best-dressed men connected with fashion include Oscar de la Renta, designer; Hardy Amies, British designer; Thomas Nutter, London tailor; Andre Oliver, designer for Pierre Cardin; Philippe Venet, Paris couturiere, and Kenneth J. Lane, jewelry designer.

Others include Halston Frowick, New York designer; James Galanos, California designer; Yves Saint Laurent, Paris designer; Joel Schumacher, designer for films; Max Evans, fashion consultant, and Henry Sell, editor-at-large for a fashion magazine.

The women in fashion voted to a list of 12 are Naomi Sims, New York model; Princess Diane von Furstenberg, fashion designer; Mary McFadden, fashion editor, Elsa Peretti, jewelry designer; Jean Muir, British fashion designer; Countess Lulu de la Falaise, of Paris, associated with Saint Laurent, and Mrs. Maxime de la Falaise McKendry, New York designer and author.

Others are Mrs. Bruce Addison, of New York, owner of a model agency, Mrs. Francoise de la Renta, fashion editor; Mrs. Renny Saltzman, fashion consultant; Miss Grace Mirabella, editor of a fashion magazine, and Mrs. Eve Orton, fashion consultant.

Choose your finesses to safeguard contract

Taking finesses is like eating candy: You have to know when to stop. South had to exercise restraint in today's hand since just one finesse too many would have given him indigestion.

Opening lead — ♠ 4

West opened the four of spades. East put up the jack, and South won with the ace. Declarer planned to try for three diamond tricks and for two tricks in each of the other suits.

South's first step was to lead the nine of diamonds and let it ride around to East's queen. South didn't mind losing one or two diamond tricks to make sure of three tricks in the suit.

East returned a spade, and West took the queen. West realized that South had a second spade stopper, so he switched to the eight of clubs.

This gave South the chance to finesse with dummy's jack of clubs, but South resisted the temptation. Instead, he played low from the dummy and won with the ace of clubs in his own hand.

Declarer next led the eight of diamonds and let it ride, losing to East's king. East returned a heart, and South had the chance to finesse with the jack of hearts.

South resisted this temptation also. He put up the ace of hearts and led the ten of spades to force out the king. Now

South was in position to take his remaining six tricks.

It would have been fatal to finesse with either the jack of clubs or the jack of hearts. Either play would give the defenders their fifth defensive trick. As South actually played the hand, he couldn't possibly lose it.

Adult dance class begins

Tap and jazz dance lessons for adults will begin Feb. 6 at the Appleton YMCA under the instruction of Sonja Long, a newcomer to the city.

Another class to be taught by Sonja Long is dance and music for tiny tots ages 2, 3, 4 and 5. Beginning Feb. 7, the Wednesday afternoon session of six classes will teach children to discover new ways of understanding music and to develop a feeling for rhythm.

Sonja Long has studied tap and ballet for 15 years and is a graduate of Medau Gymnastic School, Coburg, Germany. She has attended the London School of Contemporary Dance and has taught tap and ballet in public schools for four years. She has done choreography for musicals in Kalamazoo, Mich., where she also performed in "My Fair Lady," "Music Man" and "Carousel."

Further information may be obtained through the Adult Department of the Appleton YMCA.

Courts and juries consensus will occupy the League of Women Voters at unit meetings Monday and Wednesday. Hostess for the 8 p.m. gathering Monday will be Pattee LaFountain, 1612 N. Harriman St., with Marty Howard serving as discussion leader. Hostesses for the 9 a.m. Wednesday meeting at Presbyterian Church will be Alice Kissinger and Sue Kinde. Rose Dercks will be discussion leader. Win Thrall, 59 Bellaire Court, will be hostess for the 8 p.m. Wednesday meeting with Helen Heil serving as discussion leader.

Topic for the unit meetings Jan. 22 and 24 will be law enforcement. Hostess at 8 p.m. Jan. 22 is Betty Breunig, 56 Bellaire Court; at 9 a.m. Jan. 24 at Presbyterian Church, Christine Wise and Rose Dercks, and at 8 p.m. Jan. 24, Ruth Strassburg, 708 E. Glendale Ave.

A board meeting is slated at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 15 at the home of Jean Koffend, 137 Alton Court.

A state and local lively issues meeting is on the agenda at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 30 at Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. During this session, members begin program planning, with possible studies presented and discussed by the membership. Based on suggestions made at this time, the board recommends one or more local studies for the coming year. Members vote to adopt either the board's recommendation or other studies proposed at the living issues meeting at the organization's annual meeting in April.

The process of program planning on the state level is similar with the results of lively issues meetings from local leagues sent to the state board who in turn makes recommendations. The program for the biennium is adopted by the state convention.

Ann Landers

Telling parents is mature way

Dear Ann Landers: I just had a terrific argument with our daughter. Here's the situation. Linda is 19, a junior in college. She works part-time, owns her own car, and is usually good about letting us know her whereabouts. Yesterday she had a day off from school, left the house at 8 a.m. to "do some things."

By 10 p.m. my husband and I became worried and I committed the unpardonable sin. I called two of her friends to ask if they knew where Linda was. At midnight, she came in all smiles — couldn't understand our concern. She said she had driven to another state to visit her boyfriend and she didn't tell us in advance because she was afraid we might not approve.

We feel it would have been no more than a gesture of consideration to have telephoned us at some time during the 16-hour interval. Up until this time we have always asked our children to list their plans on a slip of paper and leave it at the telephone.

Are we old-fashioned parents? Are we overly protective? Are we off base? What are your views? — J. S.

Dear J. S.: A 19-year-old college girl who works part-time and owns her own car should not have to worry about parental consent to drive to another state to visit her boyfriend. She should be sufficiently mature and independent to tell her parents of her plans in advance — and she should be thoughtful and considerate enough to phone them from the road and say, "I'm okay and on my way home."

Dear Ann Landers: When I visited a friend she showed me some lovely china she had inherited from her mother and grandmother. I admired one platter in particular and said, jokingly, "You can give this to me on my wedding anniversary."

Well, Ann, on our anniversary that platter arrived, beautifully wrapped — and I thought, "How generous of her!"

The very next day, to my complete astonishment, this woman phoned me and asked if I'd mind returning the platter. It seems her children were unhappy that she had given it away. She told me to take my time and think it over.

We've been friends a long time, Ann, and I don't know what to make of it. I'm sure no matter which way I decide, our friendship will never be the same. I'd appreciate your advice. — L. H.

Dear L. H.: Obviously your friend did not give you the platter with a full heart. If she had, her children's comments would not have mattered. Certainly you would not enjoy the platter after you had been asked to return it. So, do so at once, without comment.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say a word to "Mother in Distress" — the woman who was upset because a Gypsy palm reader told her daughter she had a very short lifetime and not to put off doing the things she wanted to do because she didn't have much time left.

I, too, have a very short lifetime and was told by a palm reader that I would not live longer than one-third the natural life span. I was also told that the two crisscross lines below the second joint of my index finger on my right hand foretold two marriages.

I am nearly 84 years old and my husband and I celebrated our 60th wedding anniversary last month. What do you think of that, Ann Landers? — Daily Reader in Dothan, Ala.

Dear Do: I think palmistry is a lot of horsefeathers and I appreciate your testimony. As I said before, if those Gypsies could predict the future, they would not be sitting in drafty tents reading palms for $2 a pop. They would be on Wall Street cleaning up.

It's not always easy to recognize love, especially the first time around. Acquaint yourself with the guidelines. Read Ann Landers' booklet "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." For a copy, mail 35 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to this newspaper.

Girls wage holiday sports war

Thursday, Jan. 4, 1973

The Post-Crescent, Appleton-Neenah-Menasha, Wis.

A-18

Setting the pick, driving in for a layup and making the big play that carries your team into the holiday finals are facets of the wonderful world of girls' basketball as played during the Girls' Holiday Program sponsored by the Appleton Recreation Department. Competition which carried through the Christmas vacation period, brought girls together to compete in basketball, kickball and a flurry of freethrow events. The names were as imaginatively sporting as enthusiasm allowed. As the Jaguars met the Pandas, the Raiders battled with the Superstars, the Hound Dogs bayed at the Chargers. Participants waged their own sporting war against respective teams from St. Thomas More, St. Paul Lutheran, Einstein, Sacred Heart, Mr. Olive and Roosevelt. At left, Gail Donahue shoots a jump shot. With her on the Edison School court Thursday were Kathy Kuhl, Linda Diedrich, Liz Kleba, Peggy Wurzer and Cindy Kositzke. At right, Liz Kleba drives past defender Gail Donahue. # Residents irked by sewer fees

BY CLIFF MILLER

Post-Crescent staff writer

Charges of injustice in Appleton's sewer construction assessment policies surfaced again Wednesday after citizens complained during a City Council hearing on assessments for six projects proposed next summer.

One frequent council critic of the policies, Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd), called the policies "haywire. . . all wrong. . . punitive. . . regressive," and said he hopes they will be reformed during the coming year.

One owner of four properties on Morrison Street between Atlantic and Pacific streets complained that she is being charged for more sewer than will run past her property, due to the council's policy of assessing all property for at least 50 feet of main, even when actual frontage is less.

A spokesman for property owners on N. Oneida Street, who said 65 per cent of his neighbors are retired elderly persons, claimed their special assessments "are enough to put them on the relief roll or just out of commission."

Residents of Rogers Avenue, west from Herbert Street to the end of the avenue, complained that they are being assessed for replacing a 17-year-old sewer that has been eaten away by industrial chemicals.

Aldermen referred the Rogers Avenue and Morrison Street projects back to the board of public works for further consideration, but approved assessments on Cedar Street, from Douglas Street to the east line of Hycrest Drive; Franklin Street from Appleton to Drew; Oneida from Wisconsin Avenue to Parkway Boulevard, and Morrison from Lawrence to Water streets.

Public Works Director Robert Miller and City Atty. David Geenen assured the Rogers Street residents that the city will attempt to learn who was responsible for the acid destruction, and if legal proof can be found, the replacement charge will be billed against whomever caused the damage.

Miller explained that the damage has been traced to the sewer leading from the McKesson Chemical Co., 1836 W. Rogers Ave. But he said investigation has not progressed far enough to prove whether the present occupant or a predecessor released the acid. Solid evidence is needed to take legal action, he said.

He also explained that the residents who would be billed if responsibility for the damage cannot be pinned down will receive cash credit for the sewer's 58 years of unused life, based on an average life of 75 years. But Ald. Edward Maloney pointed out that taxpayers throughout the city will pay for the lost 58 years if the firm or individual responsible is not charged.

Maloney also called the 50-foot minimum assessment policy unfair. It was one complaint among several that prompted Ald. Bruce Stutzman (1st) to refer one of the Morrison Street projects back to the public works board.

He also said he wanted investigation of reports that some sanitary sewage in the area is being channeled to storm rather than sanitary sewers. There also was disagreement between a property owner and Miller over the age of the present sewer.

A spokesman for Cedar Street residents said he and possibly others on the street are being charged for sewer they don't use. Miller and aldermen assured that if the claim is proven the bills will be corrected.

But Miller warned that faulty sewers place the city in violation of state and federal anti-pollution laws. He urged against debating the wisdom of the projects, which he said must be undertaken. Instead, he said, debate should focus on the assessment policy, which he told citizens he must follow unless the council changes it.

But Ald. Roylance Pointer (14th) told critics that so far only negative criticism of the policy has been made. "Offer me a better one," he challenged. Kalata replied that positive proposals in the past "hardly even got into committee," but promised to renew the debate later in the year.

In other business, the council:

— Approved a 1973 labor contract with Appleton Firefighters Association Local 257, containing a $39 per month across-the-board pay boost, or an average of 4.5 per cent; an increase from $4 to $5 in the city's contribution toward the firemen's monthly life insurance premiums; an additional half day vacation for "day workers" and a fair share agreement requiring nonunion members in the future to pay membership dues. The union had sought a 5.5 per cent pay increase.

— Received a resolution signed by several aldermen proposing that City Atty. David Geenen press legal action to recover all or part of an $8,636 hospital bill for a city relief recipient whose illness resulted from drug abuse. Geenen has previously ruled that no legal opportunities exist to recover the costs.

— Denied a resolution by Ald. Edward Maloney (9th) to use revenue sharing funds to provide property tax relief for the elderly. Both Geenen and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities legal counsel have ruled the plan would violate state tax law.

Small portion of 1973 taxes paid in Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — Slightly less than 10 percent of total taxes to be collected this year were paid prior to the start of the new year, according to Mrs. Mary Kavanaugh, city treasurer.

A total of $292,800 in personal property and real estate taxes for 1973 were collected before Jan. 1, compared to $205,000 collected in the comparable period last year. Taxes this year were paid on 875 parcels of land out of a total of 4,228.

Bingo gets beer again

The city council again overruled the police department Wednesday by granting beer licenses to a group sponsoring bingo games.

The St. Therese Catholic Church men's club received one-day "picnic" beer licenses for four games this month and next, on a 17-3 council vote. Aldermen Glenn Thompson (13th), Judith Winzenz (12th) and Peter Beckley (10th) voted against the action.

Police contend that the beer and liquor license ordinance bans games of chance where licenses are in force. Bingo sponsors argue that since a local court ruled the games legal, they are not games of chance under Wisconsin law.

Back-fire

Extensive damage was reported to the engine of a car owned by Nancy Lambert, 306 N. Appleton St., after a fire about 2 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of College Avenue and Richmond Street. It took about 10 minutes for Appleton firemen to extinguish the blaze, above. It apparently started from backfiring in the carburetor.

Mayor seeks aid for police building

Mayor James Sutherland went to Madison today to argue for a change in state law enforcement aid policies, backed by a 15-5 city council vote Wednesday supporting his police-community relations building concept.

Some aldermen argued that the mayor should be seeking state aid for the full cost of police station construction, rather than limiting himself to the community relations facilities.

Others challenged the need for the special facilities, arguing either that police don't need better relations with Appleton citizens, or that public facilities don't belong in a police station.

Some worried that the mayor's quest for aid will delay the local project, but they were assured it won't.

At present, the Wisconsin Council on fox cities

The Post-Crescent

Thursday, Jan. 4, 1973

B-1

Criminal Justice, headed by Gov. Patrick Lucey, refuses to grant funds to help with any form of police facility construction.

Sutherland said he considered it an "extremely remote" chance that the council would open up its federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration funds to all station construction projects, so he limited himself to the public-use facility issue.

The state council meets today to resume consideration of its $11.5 million budget for this year, with a Jan. 15 adoption deadline. Sutherland is among several state mayors seeking changes in budget policy. Others are fighting what they charge is discrimination against the state's largest municipalities.

The mayor added the council's resolution endorsing his policy change proposal to a sheaf of 25 letters from local judges and law enforcement officials, educators and other citizens interested in the community relations facilities. If the policy is changed, it would open the door for an Appleton grant application to be considered later, seeking 50 per cent financing of the public use portion of the new police station.

Ald. LeRoy Stohlman (7th) led off criticism of the proposal. "As far as I'm concerned, police-community relations right now are excellent," he maintained. The only people who have a sour attitude toward police are those in trouble with the law, and they should feel hostile, Stohlman maintained.

Young people would be the primary users of the special facilities, he noted. But he said "only a small element" of local youth harbor hostility toward law enforcement. He also suggested that public use facilities in the police station would interfere with police work.

Ald. Alvin Tews (5th) said Sutherland raised his proposal when the city was "just about ready to resolve" the police station site selection and construction issues. He worried that the mayor's efforts will produce "one more grand delay" in the project.

But Ald. William Errington (15th), chairman of the council's public safety committee which had endorsed the resolution, promised positive action on the project will be taken at the next scheduled meeting of the board of public works on Jan. 16.

Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) was the first alderman to propose seeking aid to reduce the total cost of a new station. He initially said he was unable to support Sutherland's resolution because nobody knows the nature of the public use facilities or their cost. Thompson later agreed to support the resolution, only "to find out if there is anything there" in the form of aid funds.

Ald. Roylance Pointer (14th) said he favors a complex of municipal facilities including recreation and police segments, with the recreation portion available to police to use if they wish.

But he opposed including both functions in a police station. "Recreation should be with the recreation department and police work with the police station," he said.

Sutherland said the state agency is shifting policy in its proposed new budget to heavily finance starting youth service bureaus in state's law enforcement agencies. He suggested that his proposal is consistent with the change. He repeated that the funds are intended to finance innovations in law enforcement, which he says his plan would be.

The concept of public-use facilities in the new police station was first proposed in the report of the police station site criteria committee, a group of local citizens named by Sutherland to study and make recommendations for the proposed station and where to put it.

The debate raged for about a half-hour, with critics holding the floor most of the time. Aldermen voted to close debate, and adopted the resolution itself over opposing votes by Stohlman, Tews, Pointer, Polzin (3rd) and Beckley (10th).

Program will offer 'just a little care'

BY ARLEN BOARDMAN

Post-Crescent staff writer

There's a group of people in Outagamie County — and in many other Wisconsin counties — for whom there hasn't been a proper place in the scheme of social and welfare programs for their care.

These are the people, primarily those over 65, who don't need the high degree of care provided in a nursing home but also who aren't able to exist without some supervision. The count to date is 65 but there probably are many more.

The Outagamie County Department of Social Services has recognized the problem for a long time. Now, armed with a Winnebago County pilot program experience, Outagamie's department is ready to undertake its own program — being called Alternate Care for Adults.

The program is being organized and will be operated by the department's adult services unit headed by acting supervisor, Miss Bonnie Brooker.

The purpose of the program is to locate these persons in foster homes or in group room and board arrangements. Miss Brooker said the department has identified 65 persons in the Social Security program who would fit into this alternate care program, and now is seeking alternate residences for them.

Specifically, the department is looking for persons — singles, couples or families — who would be willing to accept one or two of these people into their homes. And it also is looking for persons owning preferably a house where a number of these people could live in a room-and-board arrangement including limited personal services, such as laundry.

Most of the people needing this arrangement are elderly but some also may be disabled or mildly retarded and in need of some assistance in daily living. Miss Brooker envisioned the person as being ambulatory and able to feed himself but needing some supervision in taking medication and in planning adequate meals.

These people either have been placed in nursing homes or possibly sent out of the county to other facilities because nursing homes here are full. "The most pressing factor in setting up this program has been the lack of space in nursing homes," she said.

This would help take pressure off Outagamie nursing homes and also allow those people sent out of the county to come back to be near relatives and friends, she added.

There is no specific funding for the alternate adult care program, but those 65 Miss Brooker's unit has identified would be able to cover monthly rent and expenses through social services department categorical aid, such as Old Age Assistance, Blind Assistance and Disabled Aid.

If the program is a booming success, and the department decides to recruit nonrecipients into it, other funding would have to be found for them, Miss Brooker said.

The department will handle the responsibilities of matching the foster care recipients and sponsors through using applications to determine the needs of persons and what sponsors will be willing to provide, as well as other factors.

She said the department will attempt to alleviate concerns some people have about taking in elderly.

As it begins looking for sponsors, the adult services unit will conduct informal informational meetings when interested persons can learn more about the program without making a

New year, old issue: Supervisors discuss courthouse authority

BY DON CASTONIA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The internal wars of the Outagamie County Board continued unabated into the new year Wednesday as the county board's property, building and maintenance committee attacked a zoning committee plan to have the county planner's activities coordinated through that committee.

Intervoven with that issue was the perennial fight with the county executive over who has the authority to do what, this time centered on keeping track of the desks and chairs in the courthouse.

Supv. Nick Karras, property committee chairman, criticized the zoning committee's proposal, misinterpreting it as final action which had forever cut off the property committee from the planner's services.

The zoning committee request, presented to the coordinating committee Tuesday, actually will go to the county board in the form of a resolution next week for action. Karras, who is a member of the coordinating committee, was not at that meeting because of illness.

Supv. John Hennessy suggested that in the future when Karras is unable to attend a coordinating committee meeting he asked one of the other property committee members to attend in his place to protect the committee's interests.

"Must we stoop so low we have to be at every meeting?" Karras asked.

Supv. Charles Wussow, who has been at odds with County Executive Alvin Woehler on most issues, said it would make little difference since the planner was part of Woehler's staff. Karras suggested asking the executive for the planner's services

"That doesn't mean it will get done," Wussow said. "The executive will just say (to the planner) forget it."

Woehler, who had entered the committee meeting at the tail end of another debate involving him, barked, "I'm tired of the way this committee is functioning. We are proceeding in a progressive manner and then I come down here to this mediocr discussion."

However, Woehler agreed that the zoning committee resolution was a bad idea. "The planner isn't restricted to zoning," Woehler said. "He can't be directed by policy level groups."

He told the committee to submit its request directly to the planner.

The issue of who should take inventory of what in the courthouse arose when Karras read the duties of the committee, which included the "causing to be prepared by all departments . . . a full and accurate inventory of all personal property owned by Outagamie County."

Woehler snapped, "You're having a difficult time in this county learning the difference between administrative and legislative. I have statutory authority that supercedes board rules."

Karras replied, "Then we should strike the conflicting rules."

"Don't get me involved in your rules," Woehler answered. "You've brought this up for two years. Don't exhaust it. The inventories have been taken and recorded. They're available for your review."

Hennessy agreed that the inventory was an audit function and should not be part of the committee's duties.

Wussow disagreed and said he wanted an attorney general's opinion.

The final decision was to refer it to the coordinating committee.

Curious readers of The Sunday Post-Crescent may be happy to learn that the full page, Japanese language notice on page B-9 carried a going-away message to John M. Besser Jr., Neenah, vice president of consumer products sales of Kimberly Clark Corp.

Kimberly Clark officials paid for the notice because Besser has been promoted to vice president and director for marketing and sales of Jujo Kimberly, KK, Tokyo. He plans to leave for Japan next week.

What does the message say?

"Your many friends and business associates of Kimberly Clark Corp. wish you well on your transfer to Jujo Kimberly Clark, KK, Tokyo, Japan. Good Luck - Your Friends"

The message, with gag overtones, was prepared by Whitney Brax, general sales manager, who will replace Besser here, and Donald Oliver, promotional production manager.

Oliver explained that he had difficulty obtaining a Japanese translation so last month he took the layout to the Japanese consulate in Chicago, where he was given the helping hand.

Besser reportedly was unaware of the public tribute until his telephone began ringing early Sunday morning.

Outagamie welfare department has eye on new office facilities

The Outagamie County Board of Social Services is looking at the Appleton police station and the old vocational school as possible sites for larger welfare department quarters.

The board voted unanimously Wednesday night to allow two of its members, Supv. Eugene Higgins and citizen member Ronald Scheid, to conduct a study proposed by Higgins.

Welfare Director James Stampf told the board again that there is a critical shortage of space in his department, which occupies much of the second floor of the courthouse annex and a small part of the first level.

Besides, Stampf said, "there is a lot of unhappiness" on his staff over uncomfortable conditions created by heating and ventilation problems. "But our first concern is space," Stampf related.

There is a caseworker with a desk and no place to put it, he said, but more serious, the department has no waiting room. Clients have to sit in the main hallway, a problem which disturbs supervisors from the state Department of Health and Social Services.

Stampf, who has often talked of the desirability of moving to leased quarters away from the courthouse, told his board Wednesday that if his agency remains where it is, he would like to expand to adjacent legal, nursing and Selective Service offices, all on the second floor of the annex.

Stampf doesn't want his agency split up by being quartered in various sections of the courthouse.

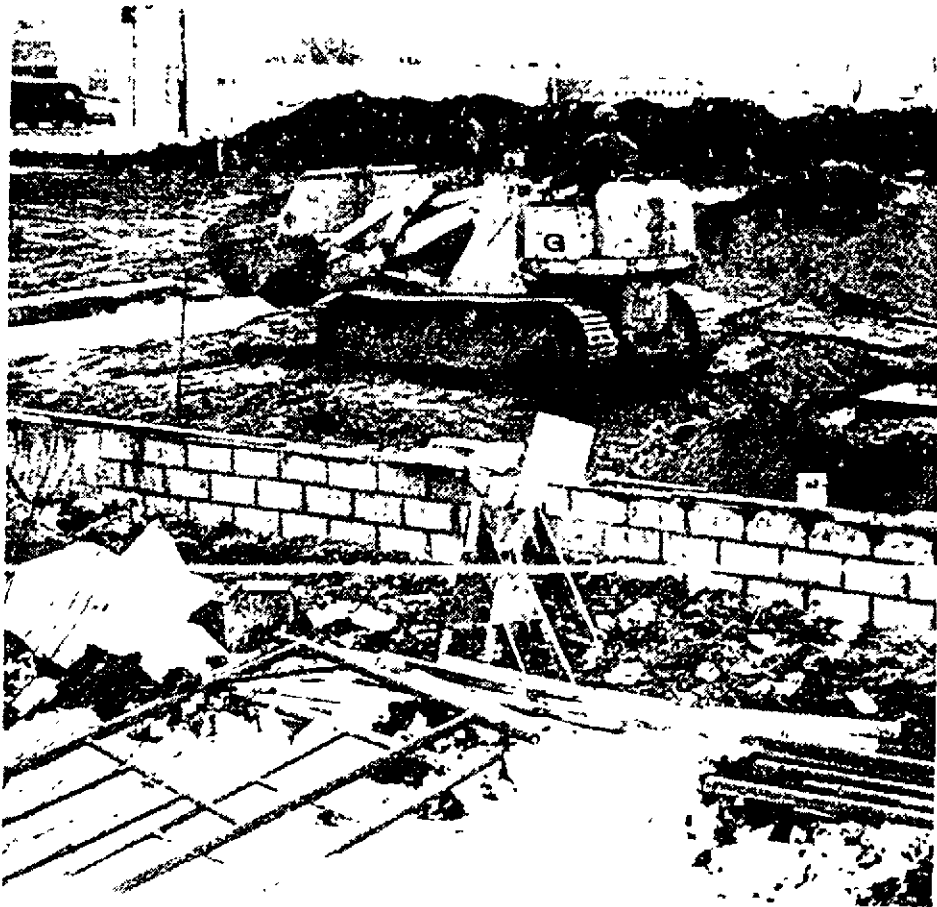

Higgins wondered if Appleton officials would be interested in a space trade between its police and the county's welfare department.

The proposal that city police, now in "temporary" quarters at Appleton and Franklin streets, be moved into the ## County urged to fill landfill needs

OSHKOSH — Town of Neenah chairman Kenneth Heinz led all advocates of a county takeover of the sanitary landfill solution Wednesday night. But resistance was expressed by several town representatives, who said county funds should not be expended to handle what basically is a local problem.

Chairman of the Winnebago County agriculture committee, Archie Daggett, called the session an "exploratory" meeting to find out which municipalities in the county have problems.

Immediately following the session, which was attended by some 30 town, city and county representatives, Daggett announced the committee's next step would be to send questionnaires to the county's 21 municipalities asking for a complete rundown on their current landfill situation.

Town of Menasha chairman Roland Kampo suggested early in the meeting, that the highest priority must be determining need and costs of an operation. The county would do well to consider operating on a tonnage, user fee basis, he said.

That was followed by an urgent plea for creation of a landfill in the northern area of the county by Heinz, whose town is presently in desperate need of permanent arrangements.

"We need this sanitary landfill site in our area of the county very bad," Heinz said. "I don't see any reason for hesitating on this. We're willing to pay for this on a tonnage basis. I think it's a perfect opportunity for the county to WASHINGTON — Although U.S. Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, remains "unhappy with high level saturation bombing" like that used by the Nixon administration against North Vietnam in December, he is not ready to support legislation to cut off funds for the war.

"One can only hope that the decision to bomb was based on knowledge that it would help bring the North Vietnamese back to the peace table," said Steiger, in a telephone interview Thursday.

Steiger has consistently voted for war appropriation bills in the past, and has never backed anti-war legislation sponsored from time to time.

One of his strongest stands on the war came last spring, when he joined 11 other GOP congressmen in urging settlement of the Vietnam war through the United Nations. He joined 17 legislators in signing a letter to President Nixon calling for a cease fire and an effort to settle differences in the UN.

Steiger was unhappy then with the escalation of the war, which included Nixon's policy of mining principal

North Vietnamese ports and resuming the bombing above the 20th parallel.

Steiger, who was confident of an early settlement of the conflict when Hanoi and Washington bargained furiously before the November election, said Thursday that he doesn't feel "any more or less confident" of peace now after the heavy bombing was stopped and it was announced that talks would resume on Jan. 8.

"I think it's fair to say that if a settlement is not achieved soon, and the bombing is resumed, Congress will be putting more and more pressure on the President" to end the war, he said.

"I don't think it would be possible for the Congress to assume a responsibility that it does not have," he said, however, cutting off war appropriations will not stop the war, and talk of it in Congress is "symbolic" more than substantive. "They can't end the war," he said.

Nixon's resumption of bombing on Dec. 14, after talks with the North Vietnamese broke down, attracted criticism worldwide. Heavy civilian damage and casualties resulted from what was described as the heaviest bombing of the war.

$80,550 for town plant

MENASHA — The federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has awarded another $80,550 for construction of the sewage treatment plant on the west side of the Town of Menasha.

The grant, announced today by Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, combines with $194,830 in EPA funds previously granted. The total, of $275,380, equals 55 per cent of the plant construction costs eligible for federal funding.

The contact stabilization activated sludge secondary treatment plant went into operation in February, 1972. It is designed to serve a population of 10,000, and handle one million gallons per day (MGD) flow.

There are presently 250-300 hookups to the plant, said sewage and water utility Supt. Richard Mentzel. Flow is at about 500 MGD.

Mentzel said there is a problem with clear water infiltration, however, that the utility is trying to correct in a sewer televising and sealing program.

The town originally borrowed about $2.7 million for the plant project, said town accountant James Hager. Cost overruns in the sewer main construction phase of the project have added another $500,000 or so to the total project cost.

The town has also received some state ORAP-200 funding. They hope eventually to get enough to pay for 25 per cent of the plant and sewer main construction costs.

to all county residents.

Representatives from the towns of Vinland and Utica also filed objections with the committee, saying they, too, once had problems but solved them at the local level.

House Democrats have voted in caucus, 154-75, to cut off funds for aid and American involvement in the war, subject only to arrangements for release of American prisoners and the safe withdrawal of American troops. Efforts to get such legislation passed in Congress are sure to dominate Washington debate if the President hasn't ended the war by his Jan. 20 inauguration.

Steiger sees this potential as one example of a "politicization of actions by both the executive and legislative branches" in Washington. "A confrontation is clearly going to take place" between Democrats and the Republican president, whether or not the Vietnam war is settled.

Frequent fights over domestic spending priorities are expected between a Democratic Congress and the Republican executive.

Steiger could become involved in one of those executive-legislative confrontations, if President Nixon calls for a funding cutback for manpower training programs in his executive budget.

Steiger said he will again introduce legislation to create a comprehensive manpower training program that would be a consolidation of the many separate manpower training programs now in existence.

The Department of Labor announced a spending freeze on manpower programs at the end of last month, to run through Jan. 31. Steiger said this was simply a "fiscal problem" that did not indicate a de-emphasis of such programs by the administration.

Nixon vetoed manpower training appropriations last year, and the program has been funded on the same level as the previous year by a continuing resolution.

Labor board plans hearing

The National Labor Relations Board has slated a hearing for 10 a.m. Friday at Advance Industries, Inc., Appleton, to determine if a union representation election will be held.

The United Brotherhood of Carpenters, Fox River Valley District Council Local Union 2497, has petitioned for an election to represent all (approximately 140) production and maintenance employees — excluding all office, clerical employees, guards and supervisors — at Advance Industries.

The NLRB also has slated an election from 3 to 3:30 p.m. Friday for employees of Karras Vending Service, Inc., Appleton to voice their choice in union representation.

Eight Karras employees — excluding those in sales, management, office clerical and guards and supervisors — will vote on whether or not they wish to be represented by General Drivers and Dury Employees, Union Local 563, affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

Man faces sale of drugs charge

A 20-year-old Kaukauna man was expected to appear today in Outagamie County Court to face a charge of selling dangerous drugs, following his arrest Wednesday afternoon by Appleton police.

John F. Konen, 1519 Crooks Ave., Kaukauna, who operates the Down Home Shop, 317 W. College Ave., was taken into custody shortly after police charge, he sold 50 LSD tablets for $50 to a police informant at the store about 3 p.m. Konen was taken to the county jail and held under $5,000 bond.

Police Capt. Jerome Kavaney said today that the sale followed an investigation by Appleton police and county narcotics agents. He added that the arrest was not directly tied in with an early Wednesday raid, in which six men were arrested and 13,000 amphetamine capsules confiscated.

Hearing set for two men

CHILTON — Two Milwaukee men were arraigned before Calumet County Judge D. H. Seбора Wednesday afternoon on charges of armed burglary and theft.

A preliminary hearing was set for Monday, Jan. 8, at 2 p.m. for Ronald E. Schwensau, 32, and William W. Becklund, 22. Bond was set at $7,000 for each man.

Schwensau was represented by an attorney who requested the statutory 10 per cent on the bail bond, which was denied by Seбора. Becklund was given a court appointed attorney.

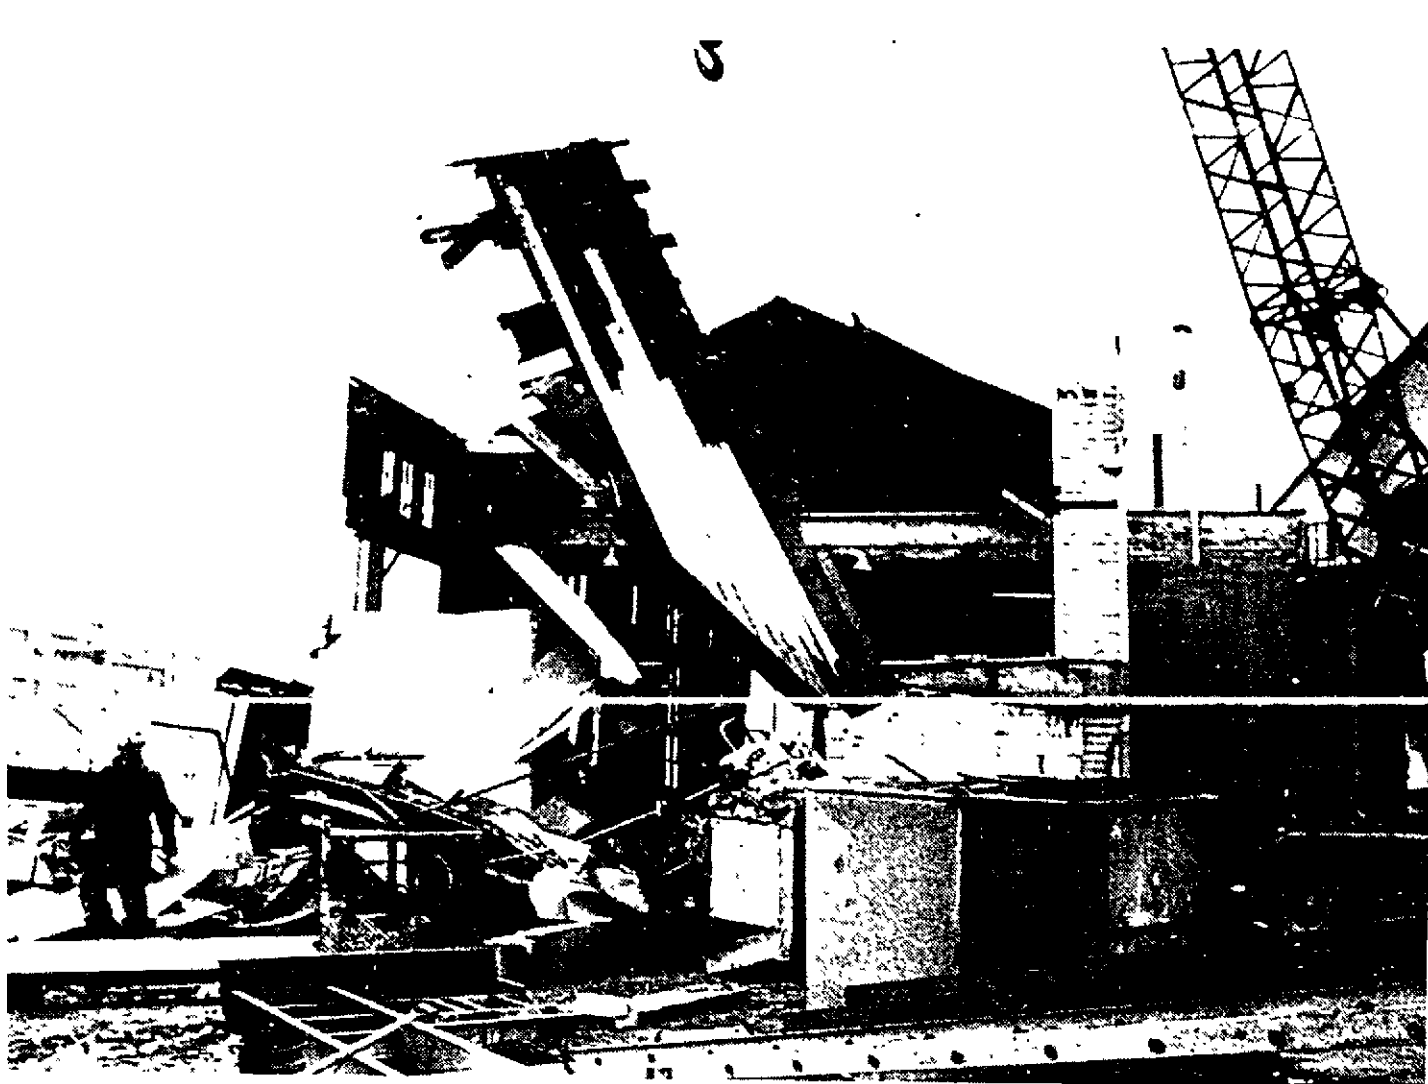

The two men are charged with the burglary and theft at the Calumet Bottle Gas Company at Hilbert on Dec. 30. Numerous guns were taken as well as a television set, camera and other items. The total of the stolen items was set at approximately $3,000.

The store is operated by Gary Schomberg.

Entry was gained by breaking through the front door of the building, according to sheriff's officers. The safe also was reported pried open and personal records were taken.

The two men were apprehended in Appleton by the city police after an all points bulletin describing the car was received.

Schwensau and Becklund were released to Calumet County authorities on $5,000 bond each Tuesday by Circuit Court Judge Gordon Myse. The two are charged in Outagamie County with possession of burglary tools, possession of illegal firearms, carrying a concealed weapon and concealing stolen property.

Foundry razed

The former Allis-Chalmers foundry on South Island Street has begun falling before the wrecker's ball this week. Built in 1908, the structure has been out of use since 1969. Some equipment has been salvaged for use in assembling rock and stone crushing machinery manufactured by A-C. The land, when cleared, probably will be used for material or equipment storage. (Post-Crescent photo)

Court appearance set for man on hashish charges

WAUPACA — James D. Jenkins, 21, route 1, Scandinavia, will appear at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 16 in Waupaca County Court Branch 1 to face a charge of possessing and attempting to deliver a pound of hashish.

At that time Judge A. Don Zwickey will consider a motion to suppress evidence, which has been filed by the defense attorney.

No plea was entered in Jenkins' preliminary hearing before Judge Nathan Wiese, county court branch 2, on Dec. 29. After considering the evidence presented by Assistant Dis. Atty. Terry Rebholz, investigator Robert Andraschko and a postal inspector, Wiese bound the man over to County Court Branch 1.

The defendant was to appear Tuesday, but Zwickey granted a two-week postponement late that day after considering the defense's motion to suppress evidence. The question posed is whether or not law enforcement officers had the proper warrant to search Jenkins' residence on Dec. 12.

Jenkins was arrested after he turned over a brown paper package which, allegedly was known to contain eight tubes of oil paint in which a substance chemically analyzed as Delta-1-tetrahydrocannabinol (hashish) had been placed.

The brown paper package had been mailed from Amsterdam to a "Steven Wilson" at Scandinavia. It had been picked up by the U.S. Customs Office, Chicago, after specially trained dogs sniffed out the hashish.

A postal inspector testified at the preliminary hearing that the package had been forwarded to him at Wausau.

courthouse annex is not new. It was one of several sites suggested for new police quarters. But the welfare department shift to the police building has not been discussed publicly. Police now occupy a two-story building that formerly housed an automotive supply firm.

Higgins also mentioned the possibility of using the vacant old vocational school, on the southern fringe of downtown Appleton, for welfare quarters. The vocational school building also had been mentioned as a police station possibility.

Higgins' suggestion for a study was well received by the other board members.

Supv. Herman Ripp of Appleton, welfare board chairman, liked the idea of exploring the proposal with city officials.

Stampp said there is no state reimbursement for rents paid by welfare agencies in county-owned buildings. So the $2 per square foot charge levied against the county welfare agency for use of first floor annex space and the $2.50 a foot for second level space are labeled janitorial and utility fees, he said.

The fees total about $1,500 a month or $18,000 a year.

Higgins believed that the welfare agency could get considerably more space elsewhere, under a lease arrangement, for what it is now paying the county.

Stampp guessed that there would be an overall savings if, after the welfare agency moved, the space it now pays for would be used by others. "But there would be no savings to the county if this space is not in demand," he ventured.

A lease arrangement elsewhere, Stampp said, probably would include utilities and maintenance. The state would have to approve any lease proposal, he added.

Higgins and Scheid, during the early stages of their study, are expected to contact city officials and seek answers to several legal considerations.

Stephensville urged to form sanitary district

BY BERNIE PETERSON

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

STEPHENSVILLE — Immediate formation of the long-proposed Stephenville Sanitary District, labeled as the first necessary step in dealing with a delinquent state pollution abatement order, was strongly urged Wednesday by a representative of the Department of Natural Resources in a public hearing at the Ellington Town Hall.

"This town has used up its good graces," said James Fahrbach, a DNR engineer from Green Bay. "The time has come to move on down the road toward turning the abatement order, and the first step is by forming the sanitary district."

The unincorporated village was ordered on July 27, 1971, by the DNR to eliminate all waste discharge into Bear Creek, which flows through Stephenville and into the Wolf River, by March 1, 1972. In addition, a report indicating what action had been taken was due to the DNR on the same date.

No direct action has resulted, even though the expiration date is 10 months past.

Fahrbach explained that Stephenville presently could be referred to state authorities for prosecution on its failure to comply with the abatement order, but he figured that would do nothing to solve the pollution problem in Bear Creek.

He added that nothing could be done until the sanitary district, which would have the authority to take specific abatement action, is formed.

Formation of the sanitary district, which would cover about 125 acres including Stephenville's 80 acres plus small areas around the north, south and west edges of the village, was petitioned for by about 90 per cent of the affected property owners in September and October of 1971. However, further action was stalled after the boundaries of the proposed district came under question. No more progress followed, and the expiration date quietly passed.

Although some opposition to the proposed district was voiced by property owners not wishing to be included in it, Town Chairman Emmett Root seemed to concur with Fahrbach that forming the district was a necessity in dealing with the delinquent abatement order. Formation of the district must be approved by the five-member Ellington town board, and four of the members were present at the hearing.

Root said the earliest opportunity for action on the proposal will be at the Jan. 15 town board meeting.

Although no consultant has been retained or any studies into the sanitary district's needs ordered, the 25 persons at the hearing received some rough estimates on certain projected costs from a member of a Milwaukee engineering consulting firm.

Leonard P. Anhalt, of Graef, Anhalt, Schloemer & Associates, estimated that 8,000 feet of eight inch sewer pipe could be installed in the village proper for about $130,000.

commitment. Also, the unit will contact groups for assistance in making contacts.

The unit has prepared criteria and a sliding scale of rental rates for the program, and also has met with the department's citizens advisory committee. Miss Brooker said the rental rates will be finally determined by the going rate in the area.

She indicated the program was set up to operate simply and to avoid the complicated licensing required for care at the level of a boarding home or a nursing home. However, she envisioned having a supervisor available in the room and board arrangement, she added.

Fringe benefits ruled out

Post-Crescent Madison bureau
MADISON — Fringe benefits such as municipally paid pension contributions and health and life insurance premiums cannot be included in final pension payment computations, the State Supreme Court decided Wednesday.

The high court upheld a decision by Manitowoc County Circuit Judge Ferdinand H. Schlichting voiding a decision by the Manitowoc police pension board that a retiring police officer was entitled to a pension calculated in part on the city's pension contribution, health and life insurance premium contributions, and holiday pay allowances.

The pensioner, Harry Kasten, became involved in the suit when the pension board became inactive after the city obtained a writ of certiorari from the court challenging the validity of a decision by the board including the fringe benefits in the computations.

The pension involved for Kasten, a 56-year-old retired police officer, could have been half of either $917.65 or $830 per month, depending on the formula used.

The city maintained that the higher pension granted was unfair, and arbitrary because only three factors should have been included, involving base pay, night shift differentials and longevity pay.

Only the collective bargaining agreement covering Manitowoc police was offered as evidence in the case.

The trial court found that the pension should be based on base pay, longevity pay, night shift differentials and holiday pay, but that other fringe benefits cited should be excluded.

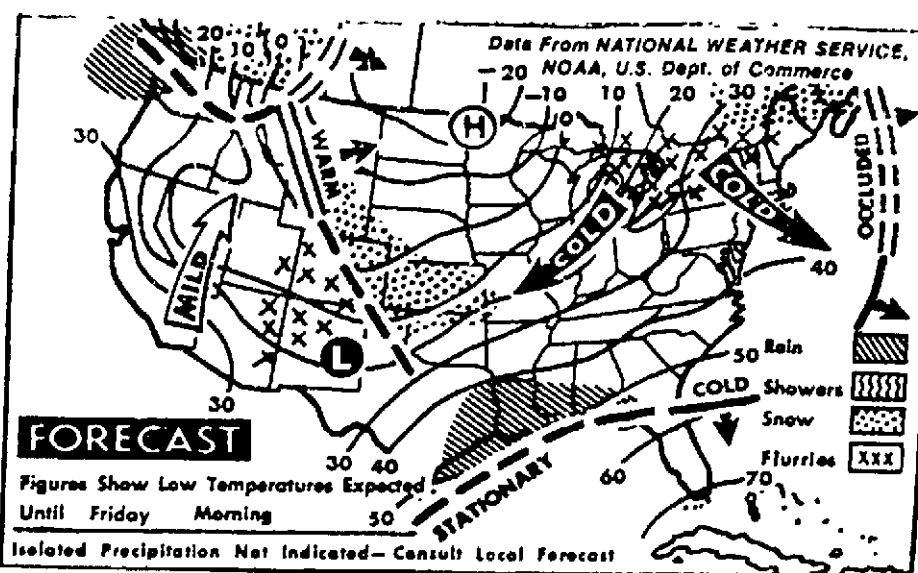

The high court, in a decision written by Justice Connor T. Hansen, ruled that state law covering police salaries uphold's Judge Schlichting's decision.

"Compensation" and "salary" are the same in terms of legal decisions, he wrote. If fringe benefits are to be included in pension plans, the legislature can decide in re-writing the law, the court determined.

Clark promoted by Banta firm

John K. Clark has been named vice president of sales for Daniels Packaging Co., Rhinelander subsidiary of the George Banta Co., Inc., Menasha.

Clark, 36, formerly was marketing manager with the Rhinelander firm. He came to Daniels in 1970 after serving in sales positions with American Can Co. and Guardian Packaging Co.

Frigid winds

Colder weather is forecast for most of the nation east of the Rockies. Snow flurries are forecast for the Southwest and snow for the western Plains. Snow flurries are forecast for the Great Lakes and Northeast and rain is expected for the Gulf coast. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Arctic air invades Valley

Temperatures will dive in the Fox Valley as an Arctic air mass pushes into the area from Canada tonight, according to United States Weather Bureau forecasters at Green Bay.

The air mass will cause variable cloudiness and much colder temperatures tonight with a low near minus 5. Skies will be partly sunny and cold Friday with a high in the mid teens. Wind will be northwest at 10-20 m.p.h. tonight and Friday. The precipitation probability will be 10 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Friday.

The outlook for Saturday is for cold weather and a possible chance of snow. The Arctic air mass probably will remain in the Fox Valley through Saturday, according to forecasters.

The high temperature Wednesday in Appleton was 35 and the overnight low reached 13. At 9:30 a.m. today the barometer was 30.02 and rising, according to Wisconsin Michigan Power Company records. The wind was west at 16 m.p.h. and humidity was 82 per cent. The dew point was 11 and skies were partly cloudy. There was a 2.4 inches in snow which equalled .31 inch in water equivalent.

Elsewhere the state Department of Transportation reported roads north of a line from Prairie du Chien to Sheboygan as generally snow covered and slippery early today.

Azco among big contractors

Azco, Inc., ranked 63rd among 200 major mechanical contractors featured in the 1972 Book of Giants issue of DE-Journal, national business publication for the plumbing, heating and air conditioning contracting industry.

To gain this position in the recently published book, Azco posted sales of $11.7 million in 1971. The company, a specialist in heating, ventilation and air conditioning installations, obtained half its volume from industrial construction and the other half from commercial and institutional construction work.

The company is headed by F. John Barlow, president and treasurer.

Police & fire beat

Dorothy H. Draheim, 63, 1701 N. McDonald St., suffered minor head injuries in a car-truck accident about 1:45 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of Drew and McArthur streets.
Police said her car was moving east on McArthur when it struck the truck, southbound on Drew, driven by Cornelius W. Defferding, 72, Shiocton

Firemen were called to Appleton Papers, Inc., 825 E. Wisconsin Ave., about 11 a.m. Wednesday after a dryer felt and tarpaulin were ignited by a workman using a cutting torch in a construction area. The fire was out on their arrival.

Leone K. Ottman, 63, 1728 N. Alvin St., complained of a stiff neck after a two-car accident about 5:15 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of State 76 and U.S. 10 in the Town of Grand Chute

Outagamie County police said she was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Philip, 65. The car was stopped and preparing to turn east onto 10 when it was struck from the rear by the other car, driven by Ronald L. Martin, La Grange, Ill.

Randy Buss, 7311 N. Gillette St., reported the theft Thursday of $500 worth of auto parts from his residence to Outagamie County police.

Buss said the missing items included eight pistons and connecting rods, one camshaft and several valve lifters and arms, push rods and main bearing caps.

Some tax returns audited annually

Ever since I began writing a newspaper column years ago on economics and consumer finance, my income tax return has been plucked for audit by the Internal Revenue Service — year after year after year. You will understand therefore why, when I sign my federal tax return each spring, I have a recurrent nightmare: lights blink red and white on miles of file cabinets, bells clang loudly in what seem endlessly long halls; men and women sitting at desks in huge, cavernous rooms turn as one to look at me and shout as with one voice.

Here she comes! Get her! I've not questioned the reasoning behind selection of my return for examination in recent years. I earn my income now from various sources and, thus, file a complicated return. I have an above-average income and, because of the nature of my work, claim several unusual deductions; and having been selected for audit so long ago, I assume I'm in a special category to be revisited each year (those lights and bells).

May have found explanation

But why, I've always wondered, was I plucked for audit all the way back? When I was just beginning and my newspaper-magazine income was hardly hefty? When I had few deductions and my return wasn't at all complicated?

This week, I think I've at last found an explanation. It is, I suspect, because my husband and I had formed a partnership to publish a newsletter and our names appeared on the returns of our little business as well as on our own returns. As the IRS examined the returns of our partnership and knocked out a claim or two, it noted our names and then it referred to our individual income tax returns to see how the deductions matched. With that reference, I was flagged; so was my husband — c'est ça.

"In some IRS districts, the most important but little-publicized source of individual returns chosen for audit, especially field audit, is information obtained by IRS from other returns under examination," says the Research Institute of America in a privately circulated report. Adds Leon Gold, the RIA's chief tax expert:

"We were not aware of how high a proportion of returns chosen for audit came from that source until we analyzed the IRS's basic raw figures."

For instance, the IRS Manhattan audit division disposed of a total of 24,316 field audits of individual and fiduciary income tax returns in the 1969 fiscal year. Of this total, 7,394 were selected through the usual procedures; computerized or manual classifications set up by the IRS, claims for refunds, net operating losses, the regular criteria.

Comes from related returns But a much larger 13,702 were picked for audit "on the basis of information from related returns that were being examined." (Partnerships, closely held corporations, pseudo-corporations, etc.)

For instance, say you're a stockholder in a closely held corporation which had filed a return that was now being questioned, and say, some of your corporation's deductions were disallowed. In the past, the IRS has never even glanced at your individual return—but suddenly, you're a cross reference. Your individual return is selected for a closer examination, and... the rest is history.

What would make your individual return a no. 1 target for audit, both field and office?

An income of $50,000 or more. And if some of your deductions were disallowed, what would be the average additional tax and penalties you might pay?

In Manhattan, $5,051; in Chicago, $4,898; in Los Angeles, $5,312; in San Francisco, $6,508.

If you fit the pattern described in this column, you probably cannot avoid an audit. But you can be prepared for one — and put together your figures and documents for your '72 return with that prospect very firmly in mind. (Copyright 1973)

State legislator seeks ban on TV blackouts

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — State Rep. Richard E. Pabst, D-Milwaukee, has submitted a bill to prohibit television blackouts of sporting events in Wisconsin when the events are sold out.

The proposal is co-authored by 45 other legislators. It would prohibit TV blackouts if 90 per cent of the admissions were sold 10 days prior to the event.

All sporting events held in the state would be covered by the prohibition. Violators could be fined up to $1,000 and sentenced up to 30 days in jail.

Police & fire beat

Thefts and vandalism totaling $115 were reported at a construction site at 79 Schaefer Circle between Dec. 24 and Tuesday.

Fourteen lead bars, weighing 25 pounds each and valued at $75 were reported stolen between Dec. 24 and Dec. 28, while holes were kicked in a door and the sides of a trailer owned by the Collings Engineering Co., Milwaukee, over the weekend. The holes were apparently made by ice skates and the damage was placed at $40.

A wristwatch and hot comb valued together at $67 were reported stolen from the Karen Schlise residence, 1500 E. Longview Drive, Tuesday.

Damage was estimated at $220 after 10 sheets of pressed board were reported broken due to kicking at a house construction site in the 900 block of S. Buchanan Street between Friday and Tuesday.

Firemen were called to Orv's Pizza, 2703 N. Richmond St., about 2 p.m. Tuesday after a furnace flooded and a minor explosion resulted when the fuel was ignited. No fire resulted and no damage estimate was given.

William H. Jahnke, 75, 609 Ridge Lane, complained of a sore shoulder received in a two-car accident at the intersection of Bluemound Road and the State 125 south frontage road.

Town of Grand Chute, about 4:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Outagamie County police said Jahnke's car was traveling south on Bluemound Road when it was struck from the side by a car driven by Ina F. Kirchmayer, 74, 139 N. Bennett St., which was proceeding west on the frontage road.

Dennis L. Sarnowski, 20, 407 Nicolet Blvd., Neenah, suffered a cut lip and head and neck bumps when his car left the roadway and broke off a power pole while he drove west in the 1300 block of W. Prospect Avenue about 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Two persons received slight injuries when their cars collided at the intersection of College Avenue and Bluemound Road about 9:15 p.m. Friday.

Steven C. Seidl, 20, route 1, Menasha, sustained a scratched hand, while the second driver, Elain M. Braun, 35, 6860 Winnebago County Trunk A, Neenah, suffered a cut lip.

Outagamie County police said the Seidl car turned left off Bluemound into the path of the Braun auto, headed east on College.

Courts

One Hortonville man was convicted of contributing to the delinquency of four minors, while another was charged with a similar count in addition to one count of criminal damage to property relating to a Nov. 12 barn burning incident, when the two appeared Tuesday before Judge Nick F. Schaefer in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Thomas A. Dorn, 19, 318 S. Mill St., Hortonville, pleaded no contest to contributing to the delinquency of the four youths, age 14 to 17, after he reportedly helped drink a case of beer with them before driving them to the Elmer McKeever farm, Town of Ellington, where one of the youths set fire to the barn.

The other defendant, James Verhagen, 18, 204 W. Main St., Hortonville, reportedly purchased the beer and then encouraged the 16-year-old boy to ignite the fire.

Verhagen was released on a $500 signature bond and both cases were continued to Friday.

Movie series for children

Jingo wonders if Fox Cities parents know that the Viking Theater in Appleton and Neenah Theater have embarked on a special Saturday-Sunday matinee series for children? Three of the movie classics already have been shown at the two Fox Cities theaters with five more to come.

As far as Jingo is concerned, they all are too good to miss in Theater form. They were made for a Real Theater screen. The matinees are at 1 and 3 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday through March 24 and 25. The public response to the series will tell the tale whether or not a different series will be repeated next year.

Remember Judy Garland's trip over the rainbow in the "Wizard of Oz"? How she leaves her Auntie Em and Uncle and the friendly farm boys during a Kansas tornado to zip into the sky with her little dog to come down in the Land of the Munchkins? That picture still is great — within Bert Lahr as the Cowardly Lion in search of courage, "rubber" legs Ray Bolger as the Scarecrow in search of a few brains and the incomparable Jack Haley in the role of Tin Woodsman who needs a heart.

Remember lovely Billie Burke as the good fairy? How Dorothy and her dog meet their three companions on the "yellow brick road" to the Kingdom of Oz? The Oz books charmed children of two generations ago and have been doing so ever since. Youngsters today are lucky to see and hear the story all over again with some of the best talent the movies and stage could produce.

"Wizard of Oz" (Frank Morgan in the title role) is scheduled for Jan. 13 and 14 at the two Fox Cities Theaters. Then comes the Lassie movie with a Scottish background, called "Hills of Home," set for Feb. 10 and 11. The cartoon movie of "Hansel and Gretel" will be shown Feb. 24 and 25 (the beautiful music of the original master Engelbert Humperdinck motivates this one). "Tom Thumb" will be March 10 and 11, and "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" last of the matinee series on March 24 and 25.

To bring back memories—Oscar winner Edmund Gwenn plays the doctor who befriends the dog Lassie. Tom Drake, Janet Leigh and Donald Crisp all have important roles in this film set in Scotland's "Hills of Home" in beautiful lake country.

Rolling dancer-actor Russ Tamblyn is Tom Thumb in the movie of the same name. Britain's great comedian Terry-Thomas as the double name and front teeth that gap shares villain honors with master-nasty Peter Sellers. Tamblyn plays a 5-inch-high fellow in this delightful fantasy straight out of the Brothers Grimm; the movie combines live action, animated cartoon characters as well as songs and dancing.

The electronic puppets called kinemins who dance, laugh, sing, walk and talk are in the musical fantasy, "Hansel and Gretel," long a favorite of most youngsters. This movie in full color won the Parents Magazine Award—deservedly so.

Actually, these movies are for all ages so long as people can believe in the wonderful magic of fantasy. The series is well chosen with variety of production the spice that makes them delightful.

Original prison drama

8-9 Channel 38 — Holidays... Hollow Days an original drama about prison life, was written by Rhozier R. ("Roach") Brown Jr., 27, who is serving a life sentence for murder at the District of Columbia's Lorton Reformatory. The play, performed by the predominantly black Lorton inmates before an audience from the Washington community, contrasts the traditional white, middle-class view of the holiday season with the awareness in the ghetto.

7-8 Channel 5 — There are a couple of bright skits on The Flip Wilson Show, which has its best outing in some weeks. Flip, as Freddie Johnson, spoofs greeting cards. And Flip, as a new character, precocious LeRoy, 12, is a Cub Scout with Jim Nabors as his scoutmaster. Nabors and Barbara McNair add the music and James Coco helps with the comedy.

Joan Sutherland stars in opera radio series

Donizetti's delightful opera "La Fille du Regiment" (Daughter of the Regiment) will be broadcast over the 120-station Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network on Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. It will be heard locally over Station WHKW, Chilton.

Singing principal roles will be soprano Joan Sutherland as Marie, mezzo-soprano Regina Resnik as the Marquise of Berkenfield, mezzo soprano Jean Kraft, a native of Menasha, as the Duchess of Craken-torp, tenor Luciano Pavarotti in the role of Tomio and bass Fernando Corena as Sulpice. The conductor will be Richard Bonynge.

During the single intermission, "Opera News on the Air," Edward Downes will host a Singers' Roundtable featuring four famous Metropolitan Opera singers whose careers covered a span of more than 25 years. They are Zinka Milanov and Bidu Sayao, who have retired, and Robert Merrill and Richard Tucker, current stars of the company after 25 years.

Donizetti's "Daughter of the Regiment" had its premiere at the Opera Comique in Paris on Feb. 11, 1840. Its American premiere took place March 6, 1843 in New Orleans.

Donizetti originally wrote this opera for a first performance in Naples, using his own Italian translation of a French libretto. Because a previous opera he had composed had angered the Neapolitan authorities because of its political implications, forcing Donizetti to leave Italy, he sought refuge in France where his "Daughter" was first performed.

Warriors, Badgers, eke out wins

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Marquette University image as the nation's third-ranked basketball team very nearly sank through the floor Wednesday, and Coach Al McGuire went through the ceiling.

After underdog Butler chewed up a 12-point Marquette lead and allowed the Warriors to escape with an embarrassing 67-66 victory, McGuire resorted to an un-McGuire-like tactic of refusing to speak to sports reporters for 20 minutes.

Instead, he slammed the dressing room door and chewed out his Butler-chewed boys.

The McGuire vocal radiated through the door, and corridor listeners overheard: "If you can't put your guts out to play ball, then get the hell out."

Butler, he said later, "played a good game. We were fortunate to win. They were well prepared and well coached. They put pressure on us."

It was a sophomore bench warmer, Dave Delsman, who helped Allie McGuire keep Marquette alive.

After McGuire sank two crucial jump shots against a fivepoint deficit, Delsman sank a pair of equally vital freethrows with 1:24 remaining to play.

Marquette squandered a 10point lead in the first half besides the 12-point lead of the final period. Despite greater height, the Warriors had no special rebound advantage over the hosts.

Marquette had 22 turnovers, including a flock of miscues which converted a 52-40 Warrior lead into a 62-57 Butler lead in less than nine minutes.

Butler preserved a five-point handle until 2:37 remained. Then McGuire started his desperately long jump shooting, including a 20-footer to make it 66-63 and another at 1:56 to pave the way for Delsman's pressure heroics.

Marquette's survival was at the freethrow line all-around. The Warriors converted 46.8 per cent from the field to Butler's 44.3 and had two fewer field goals than the losers.

But Marquette scored nine of 16 charity opportunities. Butler had half as many chances, and scored only four.

Butler coach George Theofanis and Marquette's coach praised the hosts' 6-foot-7 Daryl Mason.

"Marquette only won the boards by one rebound," Theofanis said, declaring three Warriors are taller than even Mason.

"I'm proud of my boys," he said. "They showed me some guts."

"I thought Mason did a magnificent job," McGuire said, "the best against us all year. We tried to get Mason out on fouls, but we couldn't."

Mason scored 15 points. High for Butler was Kent Ehret with 22.

Marquette's best was Larry McNeill with 21 points, followed by Lucas with 16 and McGuire with 10.

Marquette takes its nine-game winning streak against DuPaul Friday.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Kim Hughes located the basket in the second half Wednesday, and Wisconsin was able to survive a Pittsburgh comeback for a 72-70 nonconference basketball victory.

The 6-foot-11 junior scored only two points toward Wisconsin's 30-24 half-time lead. He scored 20 points in the second half and finished the game with 17 rebounds.

His tip-in with less than a minute remaining on the clock helped curtail a late assault by Pittsburgh, giving Wisconsin its first road victory of the season and a 5-3 record with which to greet Indiana in a Big Ten opener Saturday.

East, Neenah face 'must win' situation

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent staff writer

Statistics show it. Coaches talk about it. And writers think it. But the standings haven't shown it.

The "it" in all cases is the relative balance in the Fox Valley Association.

The coaches whom this writer has been in contact with have talked about the balance — from the top to the bottom — in the FVA.

However, to this point Kimberly is unbeaten with a 5-0 mark and Oshkosh North and Menasha are winless.

Two teams in a "must" situation Friday are Neenah and Appleton East, the pre-season favorites of sportswriters following the conference. Both are 3-2 and face virtual elimination from contention with another loss.

"It's a must game for both," were the identical answers from East's first year coach Tom Gossens and Neenah veteran Ron Einerson.

Neither coach, however, felt that it would be the end of their title aspirations in the event of a loss.

"I said at the start that three losses will win the title," Gossens replied.

"I think the loser will have to win the rest for a tie for the title," was Einerson's analysis.

Illness has plagued East in the early stages. "Everybody is finally healthy," Gossens said, "but, the way it's been,

they might walk in tonight sick."

"I saw Neenah once and they're pretty much like Kimberly... they can go down 10 people and not really hurt themselves.

"Huus (Brett) is an outstanding player and Luebke (Ben) is an excellent ballhandler. The others are capable of having a big night and breaking a game open," Gossens said. "They're quick, big and handle the ball well."

Einerson sees East's size and discipline as strengths the Rockets will have to contend with.

"They are strong, big and physical," the Neenah coach said. "Without question, they are the biggest team in the league. They are a good defensive team and with their deliberate style don't put up bad shots.

"I think we have capable players on the bench, but we haven't played as well as we would like, so far. I feel we'll play better in the second half."

"This is the most-balanced league since the first year I was at Neenah," Einerson said. (Neenah was a member of the "old" Fox River Valley in Einerson's first season.) "There are no weak teams in the league."

Taking a closer look at some of the Rockets' early problems, Einerson said, "Luebke is just starting to reach his stride after an early injury and Huus, who is a real fine player, had a little shooting slump but looks like he is coming back."

"We have size but are deceiving," Einerson said. "We're quite light. Roger Johnson is 6-5 but weighs about 195. Steve Suechting and Rod Kuchenbecker are both 6-3 but slender."

"I'm sure the winner will have a few losses," Einerson said, "and there are nine games left."

Brown, Green cited as top players in NFL

By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Brown of the Washington Redskins, who ran around and over waves of tacklers, and Mean Joe Greene, who made waves of tackles, were named today The Associated Press Players of the Year in the National Football League.

Brown, the running back who rolled up 1,216 yards to lead the National Conference and helped carry the Redskins to the NFC championship, amassed 41 of the 67 votes for NFL Offensive Player of the Year cast by a nationwide panel of pro football writers.

And Greene, the tackle who anchored the Steelers' line which had opposition quarterbacks running for their lives and running backs looking for places to hide, garnered 32 of the 67 votes cast to easily take NFL Defensive Player of the Year honors.

There was a three-way tie for runnerup in the offensive category as O.J. Simpson of Buffalo and Earl Morrall and Larry Csonka of Miami received five votes apiece.

Simpson provided the Bills with most of their offense and, surpassing the injured Brown in the regular season's final game, won the league rushing title with 1,251 yards.

Morrall replaced injured quarterback Bob Griese in the fifth game of the season and proceeded to direct the Dolphins the rest of the way to a perfect 14-0 season and to the American Conference East championship. Csonka was the mainstay of Miami's record-setting ground attack as he bulled for 1,117 yards, second only to Simpson in the AFC.

Closest to Greene's 37 votes in the defensive balloting were linebackers Nick Buoniconti of Miami with eight and Chris Hanburger of Washington with seven, followed by defensive tackles Bob Lilly of Dallas with four and Merlin Olsen of Los Angeles with three.

Only a minor leg injury — which forced Coach George Allen to bench Brown for the final two games of the season in preparation for the playoffs — kept Brown from winning the NFL rushing title.

Still, Brown won plenty of recognition on his own.

And when the fourth-year pro from Kansas State heard himself compared to other brilliant running backs like Jim Brown and Gale Sayers, he replied: "Let me be myself. Let me succeed or fail on my face as Larry Brown without being compared to others. I just want to be my own man."

Greene, who led a defense that helped bring Pittsburgh its first divisional title — the American Conference Central crown in 40 years, literally overwhelmed opposition ballcarriers.

He finished the season with 42 unsisted tackles, 34 assists, six pass blocks, 11 quarterback sacks and a fumble recovery.

The Fox Valley Christian Conference has a crucial double-round this weekend. Four teams — Xavier, St. John, Premontre and Roncalli — are striving to keep their ever-dimming title hopes alive.

St. John (4-3) has the toughest schedule as it hosts unbeaten league leader Pennings Friday and visits Xavier (5-2) Saturday. Xavier plays at Fond du Lac Springs (3-4) Friday.

Premontre (5-2) visits Roncalli (4-3) Friday. Menasha St. Mary Central plays at Lourdes Friday and is host to Springs at 7 p.m. Sunday contest. Marinette visits Fox Valley Lutheran Friday, with the Foxes venturing to Premontre Saturday.

In the East Central Conference, Weyauwega (1-4) is having a down year but should be up for contending Waupaca (4-1) when the Comets invade Friday. Other games have leading Ripon (5-0) visiting Winneconne (3-2), Berlin (1-4) at New London (2-3) and surprising Hortonville (4-1) at winless Omro.

The Weyauwega-Waupaca tradition precedes the Central Wisconsin battles of the schools and has been a hotly contested affair. Waupaca is the top scoring quint in the ECC with 74.6 a game.

The Olympian Conference will lose at least one of the tri-leaders Friday as Freedom and Brillion match 5-1 slates on the latter's court. Valders, the other leader, plays at Mishicot (2-4).

Winless Hilbert seeks its first conference victory against Wrightstown (3-3).

Unbeaten Central Wisconsin Conference leader Wittenberg-Birnamwood is host to Manawa (3-2) Friday. Little Chute (3-2) could see its latest aspirations dashed when it travels to Bonduel (4-1). Marion seeks its first win of the season at Wautoma (2-3) and Shiocton plays at Suring in a non-conference game.

Dandridge ignites Bucks past Atlanta

BY MIKE O'BRIEN
Associated Press Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks didn't exactly blow the Atlanta Hawks from the Arena Wednesday night, but breaking a three game losing streak was enough to satisfy Coach Larry Costello.

Playing without injured Lou Hudson and his 24.7 points per game scoring average, the Hawks matched the Bucks nearly point for point until late in the third quarter. Milwaukee, with Bob Dandridge scoring 20 of his 22 points in the second half, finally pulled away for a 105-97 National Basketball Association victory.

The Bucks opened the second half of their regular season schedule on a note that Coach Larry Costello said gave him cause for optimism. They finished the first half with a 28-13 record, compared with 33-8 after the same number of games last season.

"The second half just has to be better," Costello said. "I'm very optimistic, but we've got to get everybody healthy."

The Bucks played a third straight game without regular forward Curtis Perry, who earlier Wednesday was found to have pneumonia. Costello said he hopes to have Perry back for the game with Los Angeles here Sunday, although Terry Driscoll again did well in his place with eight points and 10 rebounds.

"Driscoll made some tough shots, although his selection wasn't good," Costello said. "He also could be in better condition, but he hustles when he's in there and he's shown he can be a good backup for Curtis. He's earned that job, and (Mickey) Davis can back up Dandridge."

Dandridge finished with 11 baskets in 16 attempts after having made one of only three shots in the first half.

"Our offense is geared to the forward being involved only maybe one-fifth of the time unless we run," Dandridge said.

"If we don't get the ball off the boards or don't get off a break, it's difficult for a forward to score," he said. "In the second half we started running. Then the forward fills the lane and gets some good shots."

Costello, who has complained all season of the Bucks' failure to run consistently, said this time they simply were tired after having played nine games in six cities in 12 days.

"Everybody's tired—I'm just glad

Lawrence hosts cage tournament

When the Lawrence University Vikings appear in their own post-holiday basketball tournament this weekend, they'll see their final pre-Midwest Conference action.

The all-Wisconsin tourney opens Friday night at Alexander gym, with Lawrence (1-4) facing Northwestern of Watertown (3-4) at 7 p.m., and Carroll (2-7) meeting Northland (3-4) at 9 p.m. The first-night losers meet at 1 p.m. Saturday while the first-round winners duel at 3 p.m. Saturday for the tourney title.

The Bob Mueller-coached Vikes have met all three of the visiting schools this season. They defeated Northwestern of the Gateway Conference, 88-67. LU lost to Northland, of the Gateway circuit, 94-75, and bowed to Carroll, of the College Conference of Illinois, 83-64.

At the guards, Mueller will probably start Quincy Rogers and either Jerry Percek or Steve Sims. In the front line, the Vikes will open with three of these four players: Jeff Huppert, Reuben Plantico, Jack Hoag and Doug Fyfe. Plantico is the leading LU scorer to date, with 67 points, while Percek has 53 and Fyfe 45. Percek and Fyfe have been the leading rebounders.

Mueller has had to do considerable lineup juggling because of injuries. Rogers, for example, missed the last two games with an achilles injury, but he is ready to go. Huppert missed the first three games but is now back in top shape. And, reserve Bob Currie will be available after missing two games.

Meanwhile, it was uncertain whether Ralph Turner tallest Vike cager, at 6-5, would return to classes for the second term. LU, however, realized a squad addition when Kerry Goodbody, a 6-foot sophomore, reported.

Despite the frequent changes, Mueller noted that the LU offense has shown improvement in recent starts. After averaging under 60 points a game for the first three starts, the Vikes have scored 88 and 75 in their two latest outings.

When LU played Northwestern the first time, the Watertown school didn't have the services of 6-7 Beck Goldberg, but the former Fox Valley Lutheran star has recovered from an injury. Plantico led the Vikes to victory with 23 points.

Carroll's top scoring threats include 6-3 Charles Schultz and 6-2 Len Robinson. Schultz scored 20 against LU in December. Northland's top guns are 6-4 Bill Huemfner, 6-7 Gary Wahlgren and Cliff Young. Huemfner scored 30 points against LU three weeks ago.

Lori Roberts rolls 646

Lori Roberts cranked a 646 national honor count Wednesday in the Donut League at Sabre Lanes to highlight women's bowling action.

It was the first honor set for Mrs. Roberts who has bowling for three years in league action. She had games of 192, 212 and 242.

Last year she earned the most improved bowler, by increasing her average by 22 pins. She is bowling in two leagues this year and carries a 159 average. She totaled 23 strikes in her series.

Wanda Hoffman rattled a 215-559 and Audrey Stecker 201 in the Donut loop.

Hudson didn't play," said Costello, whose team began a home stand of eight games to be spread over 14 days.

Atlanta Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons refused to alibi because of Hudson's absence, and agreed with Costello that the Bucks could well have a better second half of the season.

"It would be easy for me to say that because the Bucks have lost some games that the rest of the league has caught up with them, but I don't think so," he said. "The Bucks have had everything go wrong that possibly could. And they're still in first place."

PGA makes plans for World link open test

NEW YORK (AP) — The Professional Golfers Association announced Wednesday the establishment of the World Open Golf Championship, worth a record $500,000 with $100,000 going to the winner.

The two-week event is scheduled for Nov. 6 through Nov. 18 at the Pinehurst Country Club in Pinehurst, N.C.

The starting field will consist of 240 players, approximately 170 from the United States. Included will be open champions from 35 to 50 foreign countries.

The tourney will consist of 144 holes, 72 holes each week.

The previous high purse was the now defunct $300,000 Dow Jones Open in 1970 which awarded $60,000 to the winner.

New Yankee owner eyes upswing

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Burke has assumed control of the New York Yankee ship and the suave, new captain sees clear sailing ahead.

"We think we can take all the marbles in 1973," the modish, gray-haired Burke said after his 12-man business group took control of the American League baseball team in a $10 million deal with CBS Wednesday.

The syndicate pulled off the deal top the relatively cheap price because the CBS network apparently had become disenchanted with the once powerful franchise.

Burke, who will continue as Yankee president, said that CBS was at times embarrassed to have a less successful team after earlier years of power.

But, despite the selling price, $10 million less than CBS paid for the franchise in 1964, Burke said that the network "broke even" over the years. CBS had some financially profitable seasons, and the new owner.

The change of ownership won't mean a change of location, insisted the new owners at a press conference.

Soap Opera

Leaders in the Soap Opera League at Sabre Lanes were Lorraine Vance with 210-566, Marie Crowell 545, Mary Redman 211-546 and Callie Spencer 200.

Topping the Sabre Sweeties were Martha Graef with 565, Sue Bretl 203 and Barb Andrejeski 203.

Mary Schmidt slammed a 225 game and 557 series in the Four-for-Fun League at Sabre's Lanes Wednesday. Carol Rosz had a 210 game and 549 series while Fritz Meyers hit 526, Bev Wolfson had 200 and Agnes Green rolled a 527 set.

Marion Helms jolted a 202-209-551 and Linda Wiegand 540 in the Tag-A Long League at 41 Bowl.

Chris Stevens rolled a 233-544 in the Cereal loop at Sabre.

Shirley Hearden crashed a 248 line and Becky Sorrell 207-530 in the Lucky Strike League at 41 Bowl.

Pacesetters in the Hortonville Women's at Hortonville Lanes were Esther Kettner with 541, Marlene Parker 215-532, Helen Kettner 530 and Ruth Menning 216.

Lori Kobs rolled a 532 and Sten Sarasin 527 in the Alley Cats at Jerry's Lanes.

Gemini 12 highs at Sabre were by Nita Watters with 332 and Joan Sokolowski 213.

Nancy Felton logged a 526 in the Cocktail League at Super Bowl.

Barb Bartelt had a 203 line in the Donut League at Super Bowl.

3 Kaukauna volleyball teams tied for lead

KAUKAUNA — Joyce and Tugger's dropped its second of 24 games in Women's Volleyball League play to open the new year, but won two others to hold first in the 17-team league.

Powers' Pub won two of a three game set and Ranch Bar swept a series to tie for second with 21-6 records. Still in contention with 20-7 records are Jerry and Dee's and Rich and Sally's.

With Green Bay Packer Doug Hart again serving as "in-studio" host, WLUC-TV 11 has produced another 13-week series, "Snowmobile '73," which will present highlights of the country's largest U.S.S.A. races here in Wisconsin, as well as related topics of interest to the snowmobiler, retailer and resort.

The series, an expanded version of last year's highly successful "Snowmobile '72," marks the peak of this meteor-like sport which has grown from a hobby to an industry to a sub-culture. Now the No. 1 winter outdoor family sport, snowmobile production has grown from 10,000 machines manufactured in 1963, to over one-half million last year, with projected sales figures expected to top an annual million within two years.

"Snowmobile '73" will be viewed week-ends on a statewide network of stations including: WLUC-TV, Green Bay, Saturdays at 5:30 p.m.; WAOW-TV in Wausau, Saturdays at 5:30 p.m.; WKOW-TV in Madison, Wisconsin, Saturdays at 5:30 p.m.; WXOW-TV in LaCrosse at 5:30 p.m., on Saturdays; WVTU-TV in Milwaukee, at 2:00 p.m. on Sundays; and WLUC-TV in Marquette, Michigan with a varying schedule. It is advisable to check all local TV stations for exact program scheduling. The series span is through March 11.

"Snowmobile '73" races filmed professionally with a family approach include: The Hodag Races, Jan. 26-28 in Rhinelander, the World Champion Races, Jan. 18-21 in Eagle River, and the North American Rally, Feb. 3-4 from Antigo.

20 other programs

Other projected programs will include Snowmobiling and the DNR; Transporting the Snowmobiling (Trailer) and the Snowmobiling Hall of Fame; Snowmobile Camping; Snowmobile Trails and Construction; the challenges of racing; and the ecological and medical aspects of snowmobiling.

Of particular interest to all viewers will be a two-part series entitled "Winter Survival," featuring three students from Bay De Noc Community College in Escanaba, Michigan, who will be involved in a winter survival experiment conducted in the Upper Peninsula. "Winter Survival" will be

Kennedy to assign Jones' appeal

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The holiday weekend delayed filing of the Wali Jones protest to National Basketball Association Commissioner Walter Kennedy, who has until Saturday to take up the case himself or refer it to a panel of three NBA owners, it was reported Wednesday.

Jones, a veteran guard, was placed on medical suspension without pay Dec. 12 by the Milwaukee Bucks, who claim he had lost weight and stamina. Jones' attorney, Richie Phillips of Philadelphia, appealed to Kennedy late last Friday.

But since most NBA officials had left their offices by then for the long weekend, the notification was not filed until Tuesday. That gives Kennedy until Saturday to act, Simon Gourdine, an NBA vice president, said in New York.

Gourdine was interviewed by the Milwaukee Journal.

If Kennedy takes up the matter him-

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Football League, assured of a sellout crowd for Super Bowl VII on Jan. 14, has lifted local television blackout of the National Football League championship playoff for the first time.

Final assurance came Wednesday when the participating clubs, Miami and Washington, reported sale of their allocations of 12,000 tickets each. The game will be televised nationally by NBC.

"Heck," said a spokesman for Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, "we've had 24,000 inquiries for tickets since last March when we learned the game would be played here. In fact, we've had that many in the past week."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL announced last October that the blackout that has existed for each of the first six games would be lifted if the game was sold out 10 days in advance.

The NFL announced that all 90,182 tickets — each costing $15 for a total worth of $1.35 million — were allocated. The deadline was 12:30 p.m. (PST) today.

The tickets sold represent seats with unobstructed views in the mammoth 93,791-seat stadium constructed for the 1932 Olympic Games. The game will be sold out for the sixth consecutive year. Only 63,036 attended the first Super Bowl which was played in Los Angeles Coliseum.

"We had only 10 days to prepare for that first game," the Coliseum spokesman said. "That's how much time we had after the site was announced. We didn't get the tickets until five days before the game."

After announcing conditions by which the blackout would be lifted for the Super Bowl, Rozelle rejected a request from President Nixon to allow local television of earlier playoffs in Washington if those games sold out 48 hours in advance.

Nixon would be able to watch Super Bowl VII from his Western White House in San Clemente now that the blackout has been lifted. The 75-mile blackout radius includes San Clemente.

There was no indication the President will be in San Clemente on Super Bowl Sunday.

Protests and lawsuits against Super Bowl blackouts emerged when the game was played in Miami, Fla., and New Orleans.

Shortly after Los Angeles was awarded the 1973 game, two local attorneys filed a suit against the NFL, but a Superior Court judge ruled in November he could not lift the blackout on the basis of viewers' rights to be entertained.

Los Angeles County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, a member of the Coliseum Commission, spearheaded local opposition to the blackout. He contends barring local TV on an event in a publicly owned facility is unconstitutional.

Hahn also said, "It is wrong for the people of Los Angeles, especially those living near the Coliseum, to be unable to see the game. Instead of enjoying the Super Bowl on television, fans around the Coliseum will just get to watch the traffic jams."

There was no public sale of tickets locally. The Los Angeles Rams, local NFL franchise, gave 50,000 season tickets holders first call on the club's 30,000-ticket Super Bowl allocation.

Besides the 90,182 tickets sold, there will be 1,100 seats for band members with partially obstructed views. There will be space for 150 wheel chair spectators.

There will be 2,500 accredited media personnel and 2,000 stadium workers and participants, bringing the total to 95,932.

Tate, Rhode win West high bowling tourney

Gary Tate and Gary Rhode combined to win first place in the Appleton West high-low bowling tournament held recently at Hahn's Lanes.

The winning duo had a total score of 999 while Steve Prue and Brad Schroeder took second place with 972.

Some of the top individual scores included Gary Tate 213-575, Rex Holbrook 507, Rick Haertl 203-545, Mark Tesmer 203-577, Steve Prue 509 and Nate Wolfson 503.

Griese to start for Dolphins in Super Bowl

MIAMI (AP) — Miami coach Don Shula announced Wednesday Bob Griese will start at quarterback in the Super Bowl because "the best situation for the Dolphins is to have a healthy Bob Griese playing at No. 1."

The Dolphins go against the Washington Redskins for the football world championship Jan. 14 in Los Angeles.

Griese was sidelined in the Dolphins' fifth season game when he broke his leg. No. 2 quarterback Earl Morrall, a 38-year-old veteran of 17 pro seasons, stepped into the breach to lead the Dolphins to a perfect 14-0 regular season and a playoff berth.

During last weekend's American Football Conference championship Griese again took control in the second half to lead the Dolphins to a 21-17 victory and Super Bowl VII slot.

"Bob has come along very well since his injury in game five," Shula said. "He did very well in the second half against Pittsburgh and I feel that the best situation for the Dolphins is to have a healthy Bob Griese playing at No. 1 with Earl Morrall ready behind him."

Shula also announced that cornerback Tim Foley, who underwent surgery Monday for a shoulder separation, will not play in the Super Bowl.

Marv Fleming, a tight end with 10 years in the pros, is nursing a sore back but was scheduled to play in the championship game. Fleming worked out for about an hour Wednesday.

The team will concentrate on offense Thursday and defense Friday, and will fly to Los Angeles Sunday afternoon.

Shula said next week will be spent in "polishing up sessions" at the Los Angeles Rams' practice site.

Foley is the only team member who will be left behind in Miami. Henry Stuckey of the taxi squad will take Foley's place on the roster, Shula said.

Hairston's surgery successful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Lakers' forward Happy Hairston has undergone successful knee surgery at Centinela Valley Community Hospital, a spokesman for the National Basketball Association club said.

Hairston was injured Dec. 12 in a game with the Chicago Bulls. Surgery Tuesday repaired torn ligaments and removed damaged cartilage in the left knee.

Dr. Robert Kerlan said Hairston would be in a cast six weeks, after which he will begin rehabilitation of the knee. He is expected to rejoin the team in time for playoffs in March.

Bill Bridges is taking Hairston's starting position.

Hadl on trade block

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "It's just time to move on and play for a different club," says John Hadl after 11 seasons as quarterback of the San Diego Chargers.

An attempt is being made to trade him, head coach Harland Sware conceded Wednesday, adding, "But you just can't give away a player like John Hadl."

The name of Bill Munson who performed for Sware on the Los Angeles Rams in 1964 was discussed most by San Diego fans. Although he lately has played behind Greg Landry for Detroit, Munson was once a rookie starter at Los Angeles.

Sware called in Phil Bengtson, his director of player talent, and fired him Tuesday. That made Tom Denman the Chargers' equipment manager who also was called in to see if there was anyone who's going to be next.

I think he's simply determined to get rid of the old regime. Denman said of Sware, whose first year of a five-year contract saw the Chargers wind up last in the Western Division of the American Football Conference. Denman is a charter member of the San Diego franchise.

Sware told him that a friend of the Charger coach would be taking his job. Denman said. No replacement was announced for Bengtson, former head

Catholic diocese lists $2.4 million in spending

Post-Crescent news service

GREEN BAY — The Catholic Diocese of Green Bay in the past fiscal year spent nearly $2.5 million to serve some 400,000 Catholics in 16 counties, according to the first annual financial report ever made public by the diocese.

The report, issued Wednesday, covers the Diocesan Pastoral Office and all agencies directly related to it, but not the parishes and institutions. It shows total expenditures of $2,420,370 and total revenues of $2,524,298. The surplus was made possible by operating efficiencies and changes in plans, it was explained.

Bishop Aloysius Wycisko promised an even more complete report in the future but noted that it "has taken more than four years for me to gather information on the financial status of the diocese." This first report, he said, is an attempt to inform people about the uses of their money so that they will see the needs and support them.

Several of the 12 categories covered in the report were highlighted at a press conference.

The pastoral office had the highest expenditures of $637,664, including those outside the diocese. Income was $724,011.

St. Joseph Home for Children, Green Bay, had the highest expenses for "strictly diocesan purposes" with an outlay of $466,278 and income of $423,818.

Third highest was the apostolate, the social service agency, with $375,603 in expenses and $373,404 income.

Other categories covered were Sacred Heart Center, $248,084 in expenses, $254,249 in income; Diocesan Department of Education, $269,441 in expenses, $257,845 in income; the Spirit, $240,658 in expenses, $254,980 in income; Office of Communications, $16,832 in expenses balancing income; Matrimonial Tribunal, $23,731 expenses, $23,752 income; Rental property, St. Joseph's Home, $36,987 expenses, $78,820 income; Green Bay Ecumenical Center, $41,939 expenses, $44,528 income; Oshkosh Newman Center, $39,951 expenses, $46,857 income; Appeal Office, $25,202, expenses balancing income.

Revenues from all sources, broken down were $892,207 from the Diocesan Services Appeal, which the bishop said he instituted as an emergency measure and eventually hopes to phase out, $882,797 from program revenues, $167,633 from parish assessments, $17,306 from contributions, $45,853 from stipends, $199,082 from investment revenue, $86,500 from the bishop's charities game, $60,655 from seminary tuition, $82,570 from rent and $29,693 other revenues for the $2,524,298 total.

Total expenditures of $2,420,370 broken down into categories, were $1,014,485 for salaries and wages, $94,017 for fringe benefits, $386,391 for purchased services, $336,549 for supplies, $22,888 for capital outlay, $20,269 for debt service, $486,197 for subsidies and contributions and $29,520 for other expenditures.

The bishop said he would characterize the status of the diocese as healthy and the budget as minimal. But there are many things to be done to improve it, he noted.

He said he couldn't name the percentage of diocesan offices now making such reports, but he would guess it is about 50 per cent of those in the nation. This trend has grown in the last five years, he added. He announced a conference of all agencies and institutions in the diocese to be held in late January to discuss these matters.

George Simon, Kaukauna alderman, plans to retire

KAUKAUNA — Ald. George Simon has announced that he will not seek re-election in April after 19 years as representative of the 3rd Ward.

In a statement he said, "It is with regret that I made this decision, but due to business activities there isn't enough time to go around. The City of Kaukauna has been good to me and I thank everyone for it. I hope my successor will truly represent the city and not merely his ward, make decisions wisely and fairly and not bend under the pressure tactics used by a few who only think of themselves and their own selfish interests."

"I always will have an interest in the city and the elected officials. I hope in the future I again may serve the city in some capacity where time is not a big factor."

In his 19 years on the council, Simon has served on every council committee, as representative on the planning commission and as representative on the Electric and Water Utility Commission. He also has served several terms as council president and chairman of the board of public works.

Mayor Robert La Plante said, "Although we have not always seen eye to eye, I know George always had the best interest of the city at heart. I don't know how he put up with 19 years of it, but you have to respect a man who serves 19 years as alderman."

"When he had something to say, he said it and that's the secret of being a good alderman. I'm sorry to see him go."

Courts

Leonard P. Sturm, 41, of 519 S. Bounds St., was found guilty of driving a car without the owner's consent when he appeared Wednesday before Circuit Court Judge Gordon Myse.

Sturm pleaded guilty to taking a car owned by Ralph Wettengel, 811 S. Summit St. from the Wettengel residence and driving it several blocks away early Dec. 7.

Myse ordered a presentence investigation.

Harry K. Hoffman, 41, of 3231 Winnebago St. was fined $100 after he was found guilty Wednesday of carrying a concealed weapon early Nov. 11.

Hoffman had been arrested at a bar in the 200 block of N. Richmond Street with a .22 caliber pistol in his possession.

man at Green Bay and New England.

The 32-year old Hadl, one of pro football's most durable quarterbacks, surprised his teammates with word that he and club officials had "mutually" decided to trade him. In 1972, the former Kansas Star was named man of the year in the National Football League.

Running back Mike Garrett said Hadl's disclosure "shocks me—it would shock anybody."

Wide receiver Gary Garrison said "This means there will be a whole new learning system again next year."

Sware has declined to talk about possible replacements for Hadl.

Asher averages 231 in San Jose

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Barry Asher, a 26-year-old right hander from Costa Mesa, Calif., averaged 231 pins a game to lead by 75 with a 2,777 total after the first 12 games of qualifying play in the $65,000 San Jose Open bowling tournament Wednesday night.

Asher, who won two tournaments on last year's Professional Bowlers Association tour, had a six-game afternoon bloc of 1,641 with high games of 268 and 259, then posted 1,316 on the night shift with games of 214, 221, 205, 255, 189 and 279.

Glenn Carlson of Fresno, Calif., a part-time tour participant who hasn't rolled in a PBA tournament since last summer, put together blocks of 1,336 and 1,366 for 2,702, the second high total.

Three sticks behind Carlson was Dave Davis of Miami, Fla., winner here on the Saratoga Lanes three years ago. Davis had 1,360 and 1,339.

Rounding out the top five in the field of 128 were Matt Surina of Kelso, Wash., winner last fall at South Bend, Ind., and Larry Laub, a three-time champion from San Francisco. Surina had 2,692 and Laub 2,679.

Gus Lampo of Endicott, N.Y., winner of the PBA tourney here last year, was ninth with 2,643.

Milwaukee seeks Ottawa franchise

MILWAUKIE (AP) — A group seeking to purchase the financially troubled Ottawa Nationals of the World Hockey Association has asked the city's Auditorium Arena Board for 27 playing dates next season.

The request was submitted anonymously Wednesday and was read to the board by an aide to Mayor Henry Maier.

The Milwaukee Sentinel said the group is headed by Realtor Marvin Fishman, former vice president of the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association.

Ishman declined comment. The board referred the matter to committee.

Edwin O. Gerhardt, head of the Arena Operating Committee, said the request may depend on acquisition of modern equipment to convert the arena from basketball to hockey use.

He said it now takes crews 92 man hours to install ice and boards.

He indicated a solution might be to keep ice in the arena year-round and cover it with a layer of insulation when it is used for basketball.

The arena seats about 9,600 for hockey, more than 5,000 fewer than the required minimum for National Hockey League teams.

The WHA has no seating restriction.

Paterno considering job with Patriots

STATI COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Penn State head coach Joe Paterno promises a decision by week's end on whether he'll accept a reported $1 million offer to coach the New England Patriots of the National Football League.

Paterno and his Penn State football team flew into Harrisburg International Airport Wednesday and were bused to Penn State. The Nittany Lions lost to Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl 14-0 New Year's Eve.

"There has been nothing new since New Orleans," said Paterno when asked if he had made up his mind about the New England job. "But this can't go on much longer. I expect to have some word by the end of this week."

Paterno talked with Patriots president Billy Sullivan in New Orleans Monday and Tuesday. He has the Patriots offer and now has to decide if he wants to leave Penn State after 23 years, 16 as an assistant and seven as head coach.

Buss cracks 600 set in Auto Couples loop

Joe Buss posted a 600 series and Bud DeLoest tipped a 583 in the Auto Couples League at Sabre Lanes.

In Automobile Couples action at New London Lanes, Jerry Danke blasted at 1,227.84.

Alv Huisman notched a 234 and Louise Brockman cracked a 212 in the Live by Light League at a Hahn's.

Time Fischer registered a 233 game in the Breakfast League (41 Bowl) and Sophie Martin counted 221 in the American League (41 Bowl).

DNR announces changes

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The addition of two weeks to ice fishing season is among the changes in Wisconsin fishing regulations to take effect in 1973, the Department of Natural Resources said today.

The seasons scheduled to close Feb. 15 in the state's 1972 regulation pamphlet will close March 1 under the new rule, the DNR said. Another change will allow night fishing in Lake Michigan from Sept. 16 through Dec. 31.

The agency said it also will permit "foul hooking" for spent trout and salmon and use of artificial bait with double, treble or other gang hooks with a gap of a half inch or less between point and Shank on 14 major Lake Michigan tributaries.

Bag limits will be a total of 10 bass in the Iowa-Wisconsin boundary waters of the Mississippi rather than five largemouth and five smallmouth bass as at present, the DNR added.

Mrs. Rose Andresen

Freshman Froehlich nearly misses first roll call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold V. Froehlich, a former legislative leader from Wisconsin, wandered along the unfamiliar aisles of the House of Representatives and almost missed his first roll call Wednesday.

The freshman congressman, a Republican lawyer from Appleton, had strolled beyond hearing distance of the call, and had to be summoned a second time before he responded.

The former speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly complained about the boring length of roll calls.

"I can't wait until we get electronic voting," he said.

Froehlich is the successor to Republican House veteran John Byrnes, who decided last year not to seek re-election.

The newcomer was reported in the running with approximately a dozen new representatives for vacancies on the House Interstate Committee and the Foreign Commerce Committee.

He is keeping a home in suburban McLean, Va. His office is in one of the three House office buildings, and he says he is avoiding using the subway that links the building with the Capitol.

"I haven't tried to get to the Capitol on the subway and I don't want to get lost," he said.

He was introduced to veteran congressmen by one of his former political rivals from the Wisconsin legislature, Democratic Rep. David Obey.

The Democrat sports a beard and mustache, which have become Washington fashion. Froehlich said he intends to remain clean-shaven.

"I grew a beard for the Appleton Centennial and it came out red," he said. "My wife didn't like the idea of my trying it again."

Shortly after being sworn in, Froehlich was confronted by Ginny Flom of Appleton, whose husband is believed to have been a prisoner of war in Vietnam since 1966.

Mrs. Flom said a solution to the POW problem has to be found. "I am pleading for them. I am not here as part of any group. I here as an individual."

"What can I tell her? What can I do to help?" Froehlich remarked to an interviewer.

Froehlich said he hadn't decided how he would vote on the antiwar issues being submitted to Congress.

Tax reform to undergo close study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sweeping review of the Internal Revenue Code, leading to a tax-reform bill for House consideration this summer, is planned by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But Mills cautioned, in an interview, against expecting either a substantial increase in government revenues or a general lowering of taxes to result from the reforms.

"I don't think you increase revenues by tax reform," the Arkansas Democrat said. "You usually find that a gain here is offset by a loss there." And, he added, in its present fiscal situation the country cannot afford an over-all tax cut of any size.

Mills said he expects to begin hearings by late January or early February, depending on how quickly the new House completes its organization, and to continue about six weeks.

He said the review of tax laws will have no particular targets, but in discussing possibilities he indicated some areas that might get special attention.

—Reform of estate and gift taxes, with emphasis on discouraging such devices as trusts which relieve one generation of tax liabilities.

—Capital gains. Mills has suggested

Revised credit laws proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission has proposed major revisions in the consumer-credit field to make credit cheaper and easier to get, but members said the panel was not unanimous in its recommendations and urged caution in adopting them.

The head of the National Commission on Consumer Finance said in a report to Congress Wednesday that the chief goal is to promote greater competition in the consumer credit market.

"Only once workable competition is achieved can rates be left free from regulation," said commission chairman Ira M. Millstein, a New York City attorney.

The panel urged free entry into the market by small-loan companies, savings and loan firms, banks on competitive terms and retail businesses.

The commission, created by Congress in 1968, is composed of three members appointed by the president, three senators appointed by the president of the Senate and three congressmen named by the speaker of the House.

In its lengthy report, the commission made 85 recommendations to safeguard both consumer and lender rights including elimination of harassing collection methods and restrictions on such practices as garnishment and repossession.

"Because credit is so important to American consumers, the commission believes that it should be available to every creditworthy applicant on a non-discriminatory basis," the report said.

It urged states to prevent "widespread instances of unwarranted discrimination in the granting of credit to women," and called for treatment of the basic causes of poverty and unemployment to handle the problem of granting more credit to poor people.

It said it found no evidence of widespread racial discrimination, but concluded that lenders often must deny credit to worthy consumers because of "difficulties creditors have in collecting debts in certain areas of inner cities."

Rep. Lenor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., a member of the panel and principal author of legislation that created the commission, told a news briefing the panel has done valuable work, but she said she hopes state legislatures won't rush into action hastily.

"I don't think any of us are completely happy with the final report," she said. "Most of the recommendations are staff recommendations, which is probably inevitable in the case of a commission of this sort."

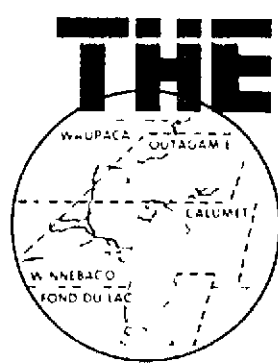

Millstein conceded that the panel never voted on the full slate of recommendations, which he said should be taken as a unit.

"We didn't see our job as making everyone happy," Millstein told the briefing. "You can't cherry-pick this report taking what you like and discarding what you don't like. It is an integrated report."

President Nixon issued a statement calling the report "good news for all Americans" and pledging close attention to its proposals.

"It is the wide availability of consumer credit which permits consumers to finance major purchases out of current income and thus enables our industries to develop and offer many more products than they could otherwise," Nixon said.

Official peace talks reopen with dispute

PARIS (AP) — The semipublic Vietnam peace talks resumed today with a sharp clash between the Communists and the South Vietnamese over the peace agreement Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho drafted in October.

Hanoi called for the United States to sign the agreement promptly, but Saigon denounced the draft as a "disgraced victory" for North Vietnam.

Saigon's representative renewed its demand that Hanoi recognize the existence of two sovereign states in Vietnam. Dinh Ba Thi of the Viet Cong said this was "utterly absurd" and a U.S. maneuver to deny the fact that there now exists in South Vietnam two administrations, two armies and three political forces.

The chief U.S. delegate, Ambassador William F. Porter, called on the negotiators to lay aside the bitterness that has marked past sessions and turn toward reconciliation in what he called the concluding phase of the war.

Deputy negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy of North Vietnam issued a sharp rebuttal at the end of the session, telling newsmen:

"While B-52s continue carpet bombing on the territory of our country, provoking mourning and devastation today at this conference the American delegate tells us this is not the moment for reconciliation but is the moment to heal the wounds."

"We told the American delegate that if the United States wants to close the gap between its acts and its words, it must renounce its aggressive arms and acts of war and immediately proceed to sign without delay the agreement to which it has given its consent."

Saigon Ambassador Pham Dang Lam told the 172nd session of the semipublic Paris peace talks. Unless they admit that their design is to achieve the reunification of Vietnam their way, and to place the whole of Vietnam under their domination, the Hanoi authorities cannot fail to acknowledge that there are two distinct states of Vietnam.

He said both are internationally recognized, each having its own political regime and exercising its sovereignty on its own territory. He cited the cases of the two Germanys and the two Koreas.

The four-party talks resumed today after a two-week suspension. They resumed Monday of next negotiations between U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo.

Lam told the Communist. The negotiators, which you displayed in the last negotiations and the insistence with which you demanded the immediate signing of the draft agreement without any changes led me to think that you sought rather a disguised victory which would allow the Hanoi Communist regime to maintain the North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam to perpetuate interference in the internal affairs of the country, and to extend domination over the whole of Vietnam, objectives which you were not able to achieve through the force of arms.

It was because of the fact that you opposed setting up an international control mechanism equipped with adequate means and having the double freedom of action that a truly susceptible of carrying out its role effectively.

U.S. Ambassador William F. Porter told the meeting the negotiators had marked the concluding phase of the protracted conflict in Vietnam but added he did not intend to limit the problems which must be solved, such as the need for a ceasefire.

Porter said the negotiators had agreed that a preliminary ceasefire negotiation had been agreed. He said the negotiators had agreed to a ceasefire in October 1968, which he said he described as a "serious mistake" in the process.

Students rioting in Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Riot police reinforcements arrived at suburban El Shams University today as about 1,000 protesting students vowed to remain on the closed campus unless authorities drive them out or release their imprisoned friends.

The students remained in defiance of a government decree temporarily closing all universities and institutes of higher education because of bloody clashes Wednesday afternoon at Cairo University.

The students are demanding greater freedom of expression.

Several students and police were injured and about 100 students were seen being loaded into police vehicles at El Shams this morning. But during the early afternoon clashes said all up and down.

Earthquakes under study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists are studying the relationship between earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, and the results will be published in a report by the U.S. Geological Survey.

William H. Kienast, chief of the U.S. Geological Survey's Earthquake Research Center, said:

"We are on the threshold of spectacular breakthroughs in our understanding of earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, and these breakthroughs are being made by the American scientists."

Large and powerful instruments developed since the great Alaska earthquake of Good Friday 1964 make it possible to record minute fault creeping and to detect symptoms of fault failure, Kienast said.

With laboratory simulation of rock-stress conditions, plus other clues, we can construct computer models of when there must be a failure in a fault locking system," he said.

B52, F111 lost in continuing bombing

BY GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today announced the loss of another B52 heavy bomber and another F111 fighter bomber in the air war against North Vietnam.

It also reported that the recent air blitz on Hanoi and Haiphong pushed the total number of Americans killed, missing or captured during the last three weeks of 1972 to 109, the greatest number of American war casualties in two years.

The South Vietnamese Command reported 116 enemy attacks across the country during the past 24 hours, including 82 rocket and mortar attacks. It was the highest 24-hour total in two months, but most apparently were small. First reports from the Saigon command said four civilians were killed and 43 wounded, no American casualties were reported.

The U.S. Command said the B52 crashed today after being hit during a mission over the southern panhandle of North Vietnam. All six crewmen parachuted into the Tonkin Gulf and were rescued. It was the 16th of the eight jet Stratofortresses to be shot down since Dec. 18, when President Nixon shifted most of the B52 force to the attack on North Vietnam.

The command also belatedly announced the loss west of Hanoi of another $15 million F111 fighter bomber on Dec. 22 during the air blitz on Hanoi and Haiphong area that ended last weekend. The command said the two crewmen were missing. Other sources said they were known to have parachuted before their plane crashed and were believed to have been captured.

This raised to 30 the number of U.S. aircraft lost to North Vietnam since Dec. 18. Ninety-seven American airmen have been lost in these crashes, making the Hanoi-Haiphong blitz the costliest aerial campaign of the war.

The U.S. Command backed off from releasing a completed report of bomb damage caused by the American raids on Hanoi and Haiphong, apparently because of political repercussions. It was learned that the Nixon administration ordered the report withheld.

The command issued a report today for the first week of the blitz and indicated it would follow up with a report today covering the five days before Saigon ordered bombing halted above the 20th parallel on Dec. 30.

However, North Vietnam broadcast a report that a preliminary survey showed 1,318 persons were killed and 1,261 wounded by the U.S. raids on Hanoi. It charged that the B52s had now turned to carpet bombing population centers in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam since the bombing halt above the 20th parallel.

Drugs seized

Six men were taken into custody and 13,000 amphetamine capsules were confiscated Wednesday in what authorities said is the biggest drug crackdown in Outagamie County history.

The arrests culminated four months of undercover investigation by the county narcotics squad and Appleton and Menasha police, according to Sheriff Calvin L. Spice.

Charged with a total of 11 counts of drug possession and sales before Judge Nick F. Schaefer in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 were:

Richard Wiegand, 26, 124 N. Green Bay Road, sale of amphetamines Dec. 30 and possession of amphetamines and marijuana Wednesday.

William Endres, 25, 329½ Benoit St., sale of marijuana Oct. 4, 10 and 12.

James R. Huisman, 20, 227 Kamps St., Combined Locks, sale of marijuana Oct. 25.

Kenneth C. Anderson, 23, 119 W. Wisconsin Ave., sale of marijuana Oct. 12.

Charles A. Ziemba, 23, 124 N. Green Bay Road, possession of marijuana and amphetamines early Wednesday.

Stephan Pilder, 25, 121 N. Durkee St., sale of marijuana Nov. 10.

Schaefer set bond for each defendant at $5,000 and continued all the cases one day in order to give the men an opportunity to contact lawyers.

Appleton detectives and two narcotics squad officers took Ziemba and Wiegand into custody at their Green Bay Road apartment shortly after midnight Tuesday. They said they seized the 13,000 "speed" (amphetamine) capsules from the apartment. A narcotics squad officer said each pill has a street value of about 25 cents, making the total amount worth about $3,250.

Spice said it is believed the green and white pills came from out of state. Agents said the pills were for sale to pushers in Appleton and other sections of the Fox River Valley. The pills were in 13 plastic bottles when police seized them.

Taken from the same Green Bay Road apartment was a water pipe and a small amount of marijuana.

Police said the other four men arrested on drug charges did not necessarily have any direct connection with the two taken into custody at the Green Bay Road apartment.

The drug charges against the four stem from alleged sales to narcotics agents. The four were taken into custody at their homes. The last suspect was arrested about 10 a.m. Wednesday. Police said none of the six defendants offered any resistance.

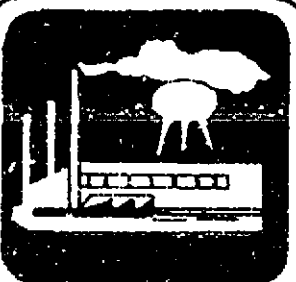

Police had obtained a search warrant for the Green Bay Road apartment Tuesday. They said they had the apartment under surveillance.

Village urged to form sewer district

BY BERNIE PETERSON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

STEPHENSVILLE — Immediate formation of the long-proposed Stephenville Sanitary District, labeled as the first necessary step in dealing with a delinquent state pollution abatement order, was strongly urged Wednesday by a representative of the Department of Natural Resources in a public hearing at the Ellington Town Hall.

"This town has used up its good graces," said James Fahrbach, a DNR engineer from Green Bay. "The time has come to move on down the road toward fulfilling the abatement order, and the first step is by forming the sanitary district."

The unincorporated village was ordered on July 27, 1971, by the DNR to eliminate all waste discharge into Bear Creek, which flows through Stephenville and into the Wolf River, by March 1, 1972. In addition, a report indicating what action had been taken was due to the DNR on the same date.

No direct action has resulted, even though the expiration date is 10 months past.

Fahrbach explained that Stephenville presently could be referred to state authorities for prosecution on its failure to comply with the abatement order, but he figured that would do nothing to solve the pollution problem in Bear Creek.

He added that nothing could be done until the sanitary district, which would have the authority to take specific abatement action, is formed.

Formation of the sanitary district, which would cover about 125 acres including Stephenville's 80 acres plus small areas around the north, south and west edges of the village, was petitioned for by about 90 per cent of the affected property owners in September and October of 1971. However, further action was stalled after the boundaries of the proposed district came under question. No more progress followed, and the expiration date quietly passed.

Although some opposition to the proposed district was voiced by property owners not wishing to be included in it, Town Chairman Emmett Root seemed to concur with Fahrbach that forming the district was a necessity in dealing with the delinquent abatement order. Formation of the district must be approved by the five-member Ellington town board, and four of the members were present at the hearing.

Root said the earliest opportunity for action on the proposal will be at the Jan. 15 town board meeting.

Although no consultant has been retained or any studies into the sanitary district's needs ordered, the 25 persons at the hearing received some rough estimates on certain projected costs from a member of a Milwaukee engineering consulting firm.

Leonard P. Anhalt, of Graef, Anhalt, Schloemer & Associates, estimated that 8,000 feet of eight inch sewer pipe could be installed in the village proper for about $130,000. He explained that this did not include the cost of a treatment plant or lagoon setup, or an outfall from the plant or lagoon into Bear Creek.

Funding could be applied for, Anhalt said, from the Farmers Home Administration, the Environmental Protection Agency or the state's ORAP program, but he cautioned that funds may not be readily available from all the sources.

Anhalt said a safe guess would be to count on about 50 per cent of the total funding from those three government sources, with the rest coming from local bonding or assessments.

Hearing set for two men for burglary

CHILTON — Two Milwaukee men were arraigned before Calumet County Judge D. H. Seбора Wednesday afternoon on charges of armed burglary and theft.

A preliminary hearing was set for Monday, Jan. 8, at 2 p.m. for Ronald E. Schwensau, 32, and William W. Becklund, 22. Bond was set at $7,000 for each man.

Schwensau was represented by an attorney who requested the statutory 10 per cent on the bail bond, which was denied by Seбора. Becklund was given a court appointed attorney.

The two men are charged with the burglary and theft at the Calumet Bottle Gas Company at Hilbert on Dec. 30. Numerous guns were taken as well as a television set, camera and other items. The total of the stolen items was set at approximately $3,000.

The store is operated by Gary Schomberg.

Entry was gained by breaking through the front door of the building, according to sheriff's officers. The safe also was reported pried open and personal records were taken.

The two men were apprehended in Appleton by the city police after an all points bulletin describing the car was received.

Schwensau and Becklund were released to Calumet County authorities on $5,000 bond each Tuesday by Circuit Court Judge Gordon Myse. The two are charged in Outagamie County with possession of burglary tools, possession of illegal firearms, carrying a concealed weapon and concealing stolen property.

Chilton council approves new salary schedules for employees

CHILTON — The City Council Tuesday approved the new city employee salary schedule for 1973.

Approved salaries for department heads are: City clerk, $9,480, up $935; city treasurer and assessor, $2,940, up $408; and director of public works, $11,500, up $739. The mayor's salary will stay at $1,160 per year, but his family insurance will be picked up by the city. Aldermen will receive $15.80 per meeting.

Other salaries set include: Chief of police, $10,080, up $902; bookkeeper and stenographer, $525, up $51; fire chief, $900 per year, plus extra for labor at fires and quarterly inspections; assistant fire chief, $12.50 per month, plus fire runs and inspections and maintenance of equipment at $2.50 per hour; city hall custodians, $445, up $50, plus living quarters and extra for cleaning firehouse, etc.

New policemen, minimum of one year training, $750, up $170, plus overtime; police sergeant, $815, up $130, plus overtime; police patrolman, $790 per month, plus overtime. Overtime set for police chief and officers is $3.43 and must be authorized by the mayor.

The city attorney will receive $2,532 per year, plus reasonable charge for legal work other than routine duties; auxiliary police, $2.64 per hour; election clerks, $2.64 per hour; firemen, $2 per inspection, with a limit of 12 inspections per year; fire calls, $2.50 first hour and $2 each additional hour; board of review, including assessor, $2.64 per hour. This rate of pay for the above stayed the same.

Board of public works employees receive $3.96 per hour maximum and $2 minimum; street department maintenance work, $750, plus overtime; incinerator operator, $750 per month; machine operator, $4 per hour; cemetery superintendent, $45 per month, up $9; cemetery custodians, $128.55, up $6.70 and $87.65, up $4.57; water department operator, $750, up $65; sewer department operator, $750, up $65; water and sewer department operators, $15.83 per day for regular weekend duty.

City clerk's office extra help, $2.64 per hour; city clerk and director of public works overtime, including council meetings, $3.43 per hour, all committee meetings, $10.55 per meeting; school patrol, $2.11 per hour.

Special night work for the department of public works (between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.) will carry a $3.96 hourly rate, plus time and one-half. It will be the same rate for Sunday and holiday work. Salaried men, not on regular duty or shift, will be paid $4.98 per hour for emergency work.

All full-time employees after one year receive one week of vacation; after two years, two weeks with pay; and after five years, three weeks. Five days are allowed for sick leave. In addition, insurance also is paid by the city.

The water and sewer departments each will pay $160 per month toward the salaries of the city clerk, deputy city clerk and director of public works.

Policemen will be allowed $125 per month in uniform allowance.

Holiday schedules include Jan. 1, Memorial Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas, plus one half day Good Friday, Dec. 24 and 31.

Fire damages machine shed

CHILTON — An early morning fire partially destroyed a machine shed and workshop on the Al Hoerth farm at route 1.

Hoerth noticed the door to the shed on fire as he was getting up about 5 a.m. He and his son shoveled snow and poured water on the flames and had the blaze under control when the Chilton Fire Department arrived about 5:30 a.m.

The veneer paneling under the roof caught fire. The blaze was contained in the shop area.

Full-time Clintonville employees get 5½ per cent wage increase

CLINTONVILLE — All full-time city employees, except elected officials, were granted a 5½ per cent wage increase, effective Jan. 1, 1973, following City Council approval Tuesday night of a personnel committee recommendation.

The increase is within the wage-price freeze guide lines. (Similar action was taken by the council in 1972.) Mrs. Marlin Steinbach and Mrs. Edward Mitchell, trustees of the Graceland Cemetery Association, told the council Tuesday that more land would be needed soon for the cemetery. It is estimated by the sexton that within two or 2½ years, additional space will be needed. The present cemetery covers 26 acres. There have been 80 burials from about the middle of last April to Nov. 28.

Mrs. Steinbach invited the city officials to attend the meetings of the organization the first Monday afternoon of each month and the annual meeting which is slated for March 5. The cemetery is city-owned.

The matter of additional land was referred to the board of public works for a recommendation.

A taxi cab license was granted to Milton Zschachner, 95 Lincoln Ave. A license becomes due the first of the year and the former operator of a taxi cab in the city had discontinued service.

A public hearing is set for 8 p.m. Feb. 6 on a petition for rezoning of a parcel of property on E. 12th Street through to 11th Street and bounded by Memorial Drive from industrial to R-3 residential. The petition was signed by Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Fred John and Mr. and Mrs. William Gretzinger. The planning commission had recommended that this be rezoned as requested.

The council adopted a resolution accepting the grant offer of the Environmental Protection Agency of 55 per cent of the project cost of chlorination and phosphorous removal projects at the city's sewage treatment plant. The resolution also waived any claim to future increases in percentage allowance.

Mayor Frank Sinkewicz read several pieces of correspondence regarding grants for the project. The city's chlorination facility is completed and operating. To meet state Department of Natural Resource orders, temporary phosphorous removal is being carried out. Construction of the phosphorous removal facilities will not be completed until June or July.

The city was notified the latter part of December that grants covering 80 per cent of the cost of chlorination and phosphorous removal projects at the city's sewage treatment plant had been approved.

The state (Outdoor Recreation Act Program) and federal (EPA) grants amount to $117,370. ORAP funds constitute 25 per cent of that figure, EPA 55 per cent.

This will leave the city with 20 per cent of the $214,587 estimated total cost of the two projects. Sinkewicz said the city may be able to obtain a 10 per cent grant from the Upper Great Lakes Commission.

Upon recommendation of the board of public works, council approved accepting the low bid of Tripod Chevrolet, Inc., Clintonville, for two six-cylinder trucks equipped with bodies and hoists for $9,200. They will replace two 1960 Chevrolet trucks and will be for general street department work.

Clintonville Motors, Inc., had submitted a bid of $10,396 for the two trucks with bodies and hoists.

Bids also were accepted for the purchase of three snow plows. Two plows will be purchased from the Bark River Culvert and Equipment Co., Green Bay, for $5,370. These are Frink snow plows equipped with one-way trip blades. One Drott model reversible snow plow will be purchased from Drott Tractor Co., Milwaukee, for $2,800. This will give the city one additional snow plow and replace two of the

Red Cross in Waupaca taking Nicaragua help

WAUPACA — The Waupaca Chapter of American Red Cross is accepting contributions for Nicaragua earthquake relief and checks should be made payable to the American Red Cross-Nicaraguan Disaster Relief.

Secretary Morris Smith said today, "The Red Cross chapters have been informed that there is now no need for blood to be shipped to Nicaragua and officials have discouraged the sending of clothing until distribution centers have been set up."

Red Cross chapters have also been advised that a four-man disaster team was sent to help the Nicaraguan Red Cross in response to an urgent request from Jorge Cardenas, president of the Nicaraguan Red Cross.

12 permits for $53,784 are issued

CLINTONVILLE — Twelve building permits for projects having an estimated worth of $53,784 were issued for the fourth quarter of 1972, according to the report of Basil Arvey, building inspector.

The permits were issued to Cities Service Oil Co., S. Main Street, $1,000 for the addition of a tank; Atlas Conveyor Co., 16th Street, $3,824 to add an office; Lois Winkel, 60 S. Clinton Ave., $60 to enclose a greenhouse; Bernard Pipkorn, 51 Franklin St., $500 for an addition to garage; Roland Sipiorski, 23 E. 12th St., $1,500 for a new garage.

Others, Mrs. Fred Holmes, 54 13th St., $2,000 for a new garage; Harold Dieck, 150 N. Main St., $1,000 for an addition and remodeling to residence; Martin Brothers, 101 E. Madison St., $7,500 for a new garage; FWD Corp., E. 12th Street, $2,400 for an addition to engineering building; Distinctive Homes, Corner McKinley and N. Park, new residence, $14,500; and James Koeller, 115 Elm St., a new residence, $17,000.

Alumni cagers back for games at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The third annual alumni basketball games, sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, were held Saturday evening at the high school gym, sponsored by the Lettermen's Club.

The first game included students from 1954 to 1963 who played against those from 1964 to 1969. The younger members won 59 to 40. Members of the winning team were Paul Hoffman, Terry Olson, Mark Paape, Ray Grant, Don Kirchner, Paul Smith and Wayne Shepard. On the other team were Dan Yeager, Louis Surprise, Mike Zingler, Al Walchinski, Jim Peteka, Dale Steinke and Chuck Bate.

In the second game were the students from 1970 playing against the 1971 and 1972 students. The 1970 students won 49 to 45. Players on the winning team were Pat Zingler, Mark Wisniefske, Todd Nordwig, Roger Buss, John Kirchner, Rod True, Bob Fletcher and John Malloy. On the opposing team were Randy Nelson, Glenn Olson, Pete Zingler, Mark Bessette, Kai Kasper, Mark Heideman, Mike True, Craig LeBeau and Mark Smith.

John Alberts to be speaker at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — John Alberts, Oconomowoc, minority leader of the state assembly, will be the principal speaker when the Clintonville Association of Commerce holds its annual meeting Jan. 29. A C vice president Roy Eberhardt, who is coordinating plans for the meeting, said Alberts' appearance has been arranged by State Rep. Francis Byers (R-Marion).

In addition to annual reports, members will elect directors.

Directors whose terms expire are Robert Seaman, Basil Arvey, David Husman and Howard Thompson. The unexpired term of Mike Connor, who resigned, will also be filled.

Police & fire beat

NEW LONDON — The fire department was called at 11:13 a.m. Wednesday to Curwood, Inc., after the automatic alarm system had sounded. Police said there was no fire. The alarm was caused by a drop in water pressure in the sprinkling system at the plant.

CLINTONVILLE — The volunteer rescue squad was called about 1 a.m. Wednesday to a residence on Stewart Street to assist someone who was ill. The party refused to be taken to the hospital.

Waupaca gets $18,600 check

WAUPACA — The city of Waupaca received a check for $18,600, one of several received on the secondary sewage treatment plant since its completion in 1971, as another partial payment from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Chicago.

"The letter accompanying the partial payment advises that final payment request on the plant is to be filed when the phosphorous removal equipment is installed," Mrs. Harriett Ward, city clerk-treasurer, said.

Payment on the new sewage plant under the Federal Sewage Works Grant is based on a current estimated cost of $578,400 and the federal share authorized is $318,120. To date the city has received a total of $257,100 from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Rescuers, firemen at Clintonville answer 214 calls during 1972

CLINTONVILLE — The volunteer fire department and rescue squad answered 214 calls during 1972.

There were 26 city fire calls, 12 rural fire calls, three out-of-territory fire calls, and 173 rescue calls.

The total fire loss for the city in 1972 was $31,158 and most of this loss was due to two fires at Thompson Brothers Concrete Works and at the Maynard Messner residence. In 1971, the fire loss was $118,187 with the largest loss being the fire at Martin Brothers.

The fire trucks traveled 645 miles during 1972 and the rescue truck 1,619 miles.

Mayor urges 'positive attitude'

CLINTONVILLE — "We have a very definite need to continue improving our community's image by inspiring confidence, with a positive attitude in the things we plan, do or say," Mayor Frank Sinkewicz told the common council Tuesday night in his annual New Year's message to city officials.

"A step in that direction went along with the tax bills last week, which indicated a net reduction in real estate taxes of over $6 per $1,000 assessed valuation," he said.

Sinkewicz then suggested actions which the council could initiate this year.

One of the actions to be taken is a referendum in the April election on the question of a municipal center.

Others include the following:

— The matter of a reassessment or re-evaluation.

— Construction projects to meet current orders of the Department of Natural Resources.

Resources include phosphorous removal equipment now, storm water separation by Jan. 1, 1974, and clear water separation by April 1, 1974.

— To reaffirm and pursue diligently this city's Main Street rebuilding program, and meanwhile, survey utility needs of Main Street.

— An Auto Street crossing to carry traffic east of Main Street.

— Improvement of East Madison Street.

— A study in connection with library and cultural needs.

— Continue recreational facility improvement.

— A more effective building permit system.

— In the area of ordinances, those to be considered yet are the subdivision control and extra-territorial zoning.

— Join with the Highway 45 committee and New London, and Shawano and Waupaca counties in the proposed Highway 45 bypass.

— Make possible a skid testing area for Goodyear in the city's Industrial Park now, if practical as the inclement and unseasonable weather makes the

Hearing planned

CHILTON — A public hearing has been set for 10 a.m. Jan. 13 by the Calumet County Board of adjustments to hear a petition for a zoning variance by Thiel's Milk Products, Inc.

The hearing will be held at the Harrison Town Hall.

The petition requests a variance to highway setback requirement for building an addition and loading dock lakes and rivers relatively unsafe. (Goodyear people are expected here Jan. 8 to carry on a testing program.)

Sinkewicz concluded, "Above all, remember that with a positive attitude, we will continue to improve our community and its image."

Waupaca completes hearing screening

WAUPACA — The initial screening of 5,883 students, grades kindergarten through six, has been completed in all of the Waupaca County school districts in a cooperative hearing conservation program. Of these, 112 students have been referred for further evaluation. Mrs. DuWayne Tanner, county nurse, disclosed this week.

Tuesday these children will be evaluated in the otomobile, a bus with special diagnostic equipment, to be located at the Lincoln School, New London, she announced. Dr. Thomas Burrows, a Neenah otologist, and Orvin Walsvik, a hearing consultant for the Bureau For Handicapped Children, will provide diagnostic and medical recommendations.

The purpose of the hearing conservation program is to locate children with impaired hearing and to correct the hearing losses whenever possible through medical care or special education, Mrs. Tanner explained.

Volunteer mothers in county school districts completed the hearing screening before the Christmas holidays. The program was sponsored by the Bureau For Handicapped Children and the Waupaca County Health Service.

Chilton police reports 1972 accident record shows improvement

CHILTON — The city's accident record showed considerable improvement over that of 1971, according to the annual police report given this week to the City Council by Chief Dan Albedyll.

There were 99 auto accidents as compared with 131 the year before. They resulted in no deaths but 11 injuries, as compared with 24 injuries and one death in 1971.

The number of accidents with damage over $200 dropped from 73 to 66.

The chief also reported that the number of burglaries reported dropped from 19 to four in the past year. Losses totaled $3,148, of which $2,162 was recovered. Losses the previous year were $6,200.

Nearly $1,000 in worthless checks was recovered by the city for local businessmen under a continuing program, more than twice the amount for 1971.

Court appearance set for man on hashish charges

WAUPACA — James D. Jenkins, 21, route 1, Scandinavia, will appear at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 16 in Waupaca County Court Branch 1 to face a charge of possessing and attempting to deliver a pound of hashish.

At that time Judge A. Don Zwickey will consider a motion to suppress evidence, which has been filed by the defense attorney.

No plea was entered in Jenkins' preliminary hearing before Judge Nathan Wiese, county court branch 2, on Dec. 29. After considering the evidence presented by Assistant Dis. Atty. Terry Rebholz, investigator Robert Andraschko and a postal inspector, Wiese bound the man over to County Court Branch 1.

The defendant was to appear Tuesday, but Zwickey granted a two-week postponement late that day after considering the defense's motion to suppress evidence. The question posed is whether or not law enforcement officers had the proper warrant to search Jenkins' residence on Dec. 12.

Jenkins was arrested after he turned over a brown paper package which, allegedly was known to contain eight tubes of oil paint in which a substance chemically analyzed as Delta-1-tetrahydrocannabinol (hashish) had been placed.

The brown paper package had been mailed from Amsterdam to a "Steven Wilson" at Scandinavia. It had been picked up by the U.S. Customs Office, Chicago, after specially trained dogs sniffed out the hashish.

A postal inspector testified at the preliminary hearing that the package had been forwarded to him at Wausau, and he in turn enlisted the assistance of local law enforcement officers to trap the person who claimed the package at the Scandinavia Post Office.

When Jenkins picked up the package, he was followed to his cottage just off Bestul Road by four law enfor-

Clintonville backs plan for U.S. 45

CLINTONVILLE — The City Council Tuesday resolved to support the City of New London and the U.S. 45 committee for the proposed bypass of the highway west of New London and east of Clintonville.

Action was taken after a presentation by Robert Olen, chairman of the U.S. 45 association which was reactivated last spring. He reviewed past activities and the results of a meeting Dec. 27 with officials from the cities of Clintonville and New London and representatives from the Clintonville Association of Commerce and the New London Chamber of Commerce.

An improved 45 has been proposed for years. The reactivated committee has spurred action by legislators and the Department of Transportation.

D. L. Cronkite, a district engineer for the department, has requested that interested groups furnish information "to insure that the location (of the proposed four-lane) is in line with federal, state and local goals." The information is due Jan. 15.

In a letter last month he said the department will conduct a study "to investigate and evaluate the ability of U.S. 45 to function as a major arterial highway on its present location and on alternate locations."

Wrestling coach talks to Clintonville Lions, shows film on sport

CLINTONVILLE — Robert Tomczyk, high school wrestling coach, showed a film and explained the fine points of wrestling and the method of scoring to the local Lions Club this week.

The club answered a request from Mayor Frank Sinkewicz for assistance in a forthcoming telethon by agreeing to man telephones.

Committee members were notified of their appointments for the "Snoworama" Jan. 20 and 21 at the Municipal Airport. The snowmobile races are sponsored jointly by the Lions Club and the Tilleson-Strehlow-Klitz Post of the American Legion.

There were 538 arrests during the year, the chief said, of which 383 were for traffic violations. The remainder included 16 adults and 109 juveniles.

Other departmental statistics included these:
Hours worked, 8,858; miles traveled, 49,804; warnings, 1,227; investigations, 2,441; parking tags, 117; fires, 18; five day tags, 828; open doors, 31; bicycle violations, 98; assistance calls, 2,541.

Fines from arrests totaled $10,785. The chief indicated that disorderly conduct accounted for the highest number of arrests, other than for traffic violations, with 19. Of the traffic cases, 243 were for speeding.

Three adults were arrested during the year in drug-related incidents. Two were charged with transporting of marijuana, and the third with transporting amphetamines. Four juveniles were arrested on drug charges.

In addition, direct city investigation led to arrests of 17 other adults on charges involving drugs.

cement officers. They asked Jenkins to turn over the package and when he had done so they made the arrest.

Since the arrest, a brown substance hidden in the oil paint tubes has been chemically analyzed and identified as hashish.

Jenkins is free on $5,000 bond. The cottage where Jenkins lived was on the Rev. Harold Zietlow property. The Scandinavia Fire Department was called to the dwelling at 11:50 p.m. Sunday, but the structure burned to the ground.

three plows now operating.

Ald. Leon Steenbock, chairman of the board of public works, said the board was unable to get any bids on gasoline because none of the companies would bid for a year at this time. The city's gasoline tank has a capacity of 7,500 gallons. Quotations will be obtained when it is necessary to have the tank filled.

Approval was given to the board's recommendation to enter into an agreement with Unlimited Services of America, Inc., Columbus, Ohio, for 12 garbage containers to be anchored on Main Street at selected spots. The only cost to the city will be the emptying of the containers.

some of the cases came from Menasha police, Spice said. He praised the cooperation of his narcotics squad and other police agencies. Such cooperation is needed, he explained, if police are to make significant headway in fighting the drug problem.

Spice also said that Wednesday's action is a large part a result of having two men working full time on narcotics investigations.

"And," Spice continued, "this should make people who think there no longer is a drug problem in this area have second thoughts. It's big and it will get bigger if we don't work on it continuously."

Public to hear about street project

NEW LONDON — A public informational meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m. Jan. 15 at the City Council chambers for residents in the 4th Ward who will be affected by the eventual curb and gutter work, sewer installation and street repaving along Pershing Road.

The meeting will attract Pershing residents from Wyman Street to the southwest city limits. The residents will be sent letters informing them of the meeting. Public Works Director Robert Martin said.

At the meeting, the $135,480 street reconstruction project will be described by representatives from Donohue and Associates, the city's consulting engineers, as well as by city officials.

Martin, at Tuesday's city council meeting, said an effort will be made to show why the city must acquire a right-of-way from some residents.

He added that the reconstruction, which will begin this spring, will be jointly financed by the city, state and the county.

In other business, Martin was authorized to purchase gasoline and fuel oil for the street and park departments at the best possible price.

The council had advertised for bids last month but did not receive any. City Clerk Mrs. Melva Rickaby said. She said she has since re-advertised for bids, but aldermen mentioned that there is a shortage of fuel oil.

Martin told aldermen that "I'm not real proud of our snow plowing job last weekend," but that the city was already over its budget for snow removal. Last year on that same weekend, he mentioned, it cost the city $1,700 for snow removal, since street department employees were paid double and a half time according to their contract.

The bad weather, including melting after the storm, and the fact that the city was $4,077 over the budget for removal, was responsible for the poor job, he said.

Last month, at the council's budget hearing, Martin's request for $2,000 more in snow removal funds for 1973 was denied by aldermen. He pointed out that the city has budgeted $10,000 for street clearing for the past three years — and has been over $1,000 short at the end of each year.

Residents' Christmas trees will be picked up Jan. 8-10 only, Martin said.

He also said that skating rinks will be flooded Thursday, weather permitting. The city will have rinks at Hatten and Abraham Parks, and in the parking lot across from the Municipal Building.

Mrs. Rickaby reported that the city's share for highway aids, which from the local share of motor vehicle registration fees, was $124 for the Outagamie County section of the city, and $407 for Waupaca County. The payment covers the last half of 1971.

The city has been informed that Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. has applied for a 10 per cent surcharge on electrical rates, and a public hearing will be held Jan. 15 at Madison.

Keating promoted to head of county traffic bureau

Robert Keating, 34, is the new head of the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department traffic bureau.

His promotion from sergeant to lieutenant was announced Wednesday by Sheriff Calvin L. Spice. Keating replaces Lowell Vetch, 61, who retired Jan. 1 after 28 years of service.

Keating was one of four traffic be taken to fill the sergeant vacancy created by Keating's promotion.

An Appleton native, Keating became a county patrolman in July, 1962, after Marine Corps duty and a year with the National Security Agency as an intelligence research analyst.

Keating was promoted to sergeant in October, 1966. He graduated from Northwestern University Traffic Institute and has completed a number of shorter, in-service training programs while with the county police agency.

Keating, his wife and daughter live at route 1, Hortonville.

Amherst Lions award prizes for decorating

AMHERST — The Herbert Anderson home in Nelsonville was selected for the first prize in the Christmas outdoor decoration contest. The Amherst Lions Club sponsors the contest each year.

Second prize went to Ernest Ostrowski, Amherst Junction, and third, to Gale Gordon, Nelsonville. Honorable mention recipients were Otis Toftum, St. James Rectory, Eugene Huettner, Tomorrow River Supper Club and the Meadow Inn.

Cash prizes were awarded.

Reform element still controls Democrats

Roberts Harris, chairman of the 1972 Democratic credentials committee. All were rejected, without explanation.

A warning to Strauss

In sum, the reformers are warning Strauss: stick to money raising and similar non-ideological pursuits and let the Woodcock and Charter Commissions handle reforms. If you don't, we'll make you sorry.

This threatening note appeared in the statement by the leftist New Democratic Coalition (NDC) following its meeting with Strauss the day after his election. Strauss, attempting to be conciliatory, delivered some vaguely pro-reform pronouncements. The NDC responded by declaring it "planned to watch Mr. Strauss's initial moves... carefully, as indications whether his strong stand of non ideological alignment will be supported by his actions."

But reformers who think the stacked deck, backed by threats, will stop Strauss don't know their man. He plans to enlarge the Charter Commission against the reformers' wishes. The Charter Commission chairman, president Terry Sanford of Duke University, plans to consult Strauss on the important commission staff. Although he cannot touch the Woodcock Commission, Strauss will appoint 25 additional members to the National Committee, which has ultimate authority over the commission's recommendations. The battle is just beginning.

Courts

James Palmer, 23, 1501 Lawe St., Kaukauna, was charged with one count each of sexual perversion and taking indecent liberties with a minor, when he appeared Tuesday before Judge Nick F. Schaefer in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

The incidents reportedly involved 15- and 18-year-old girls from Kaukauna on or about Oct. 15, 1971 in Kaukauna. Schaefer ordered Palmer released on a $1,500 signature bond and continued the case to today.

Donald Webster, 22, Green Bay, was sentenced Tuesday to four months in the Outagamie County jail with Huber Law privileges after he appeared on a probation violation charge before Judge Nick F. Schaefer in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Webster reportedly left the area without permission to seek work in Milwaukee and had failed to make restitution of $349 from an Oct. 7, 1971 conviction for criminal damage to property, at which time he had been placed on probation for one year.

The conviction followed a charge that Webster had stolen the car of an Oneida man on Aug. 8, 1971, and had driven it into several fence posts and a tree in the Town of Oneida.

Webster had reportedly left probation supervision on or about Nov. 15, 1971.

Rick L. Sedenquist, 19, Green Bay, was fined $150 and his driver's license was suspended for 15 days after he was found guilty Tuesday of speeding by Judge Nick F. Schaefer in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Sedenquist was arrested by county police at U.S. 41 and State 55 in the Town of VandenBrook early Nov. 11.

Vern R. Millzer, 18, 906 1/2 W. Wisconsin Ave., entered pleas of not guilty Tuesday to one count of theft and three counts of cashing worthless checks, before Judge Nick F. Schaefer in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Millzer is charged with taking about $200 from the Arco Service Station, 3225 W. College Ave., on Nov. 28, after he reportedly stole the key to the station from a friend who worked there. The checks totaled $13 and were cashed Dec. 15 and 16 at Rosz' Shell Station, 1308 W. Wisconsin Ave.

Schaefer continued the matters to Monday.

Police & fire beat

Two persons were injured in a two-car accident Sunday at the intersection of Bell Avenue and Locust Street.

Ferne D. Ewig, 56, Waukesha, a passenger in a car driven by Gary L. Owen, 26, 215 N. Oneida St., received a leg injury, while the second driver, Peter F. Van Heertum, 43, 821 W. Fremont St., suffered neck and back injuries.

Police said the Owen vehicle was traveling east on Bell Avenue, while the Van Heertum car was headed north on Locust Street.

WASHINGTON — No sooner had Robert Strauss won his fight for the Democratic national chairmanship three weeks ago than he confronted unpleasant reality: the reformers had stacked the deck against him.

To his astonishment, Strauss inherited machinery rigged to perpetuate the party reforms — including some variation of the noxious quota system — which contributed heavily to the McGovern debacle last November. The reformers are bluntly warning Strauss that he risks fratricide if he tampers with that machinery. Indeed, tampering will be no easy task even if Strauss risks the consequences.

So, the election of pragmatist Strauss as national chairman by no means ended the war over whether the Democratic party reverts to its past pragmatic function of winning elections or continues as an exotic platform for leftist ideologues. Having failed to stop Strauss himself, the reformers are now trying to prevent him from moderating the reforms.

Started in September

The deck-stacking operation began in September when the McGovernite staff of national chairman Jean Westwood drew up a list of names, tilted well left of center and headed by United Auto Workers president Leonard Woodcock to succeed the old McGovern reform commission.

Apart from leading the Woodcock Commission with an overwhelming leftist majority, Mrs. Westwood's staff caused a quantitative mismatch. The commission includes Kenneth Bode, chief architect of the McGovern reforms, and Phyllis Segal, wife of new politics theoretician Eli Segal and herself an ardent reformer. State-level reform activists named include Sara Kovner of New York, Marvin Shapiro of California and William Hart of New Jersey.

These are left activists, imbued with detailed knowledge of the reforms and prepared to sit through interminable sessions of the Woodcock Commission. In contrast, the commission's minority of old-line politicians includes such figures as regular Democratic leader Meade Esposito of Brooklyn and executive vice president Michael Johnson of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO — unacquainted with the intricacies of reform and busy with other duties.

Jackson adviser black-balled

Mrs. Westwood's staff considered a place on the Woodcock Commission for Ben F. Wattenberg, co-author of "The Real Majority" and political adviser to Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, but he was rejected on grounds he had not endorsed the McGovern-Shriver ticket. In fact, Wattenberg was blackballed because he has the time and talent to battle the Bodes and the Segals.

Moreover, a provision slipped through the national convention last July makes the Woodcock Commission not only a stacked but a frozen deck. It is subject neither to approval by the full Democratic National Committee nor to addition or subtraction by Chairman Strauss.

Although less blatantly left-loaded, the party's new Charter Commission — to plan the potentially lethal 1974 midterm convention — is nevertheless dominated by reformers. The anti-new politics Coalition for a Democratic Majority (CDM) submitted four prominent names (including Patricia

Governors act to find homes for eagles

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Four of 13 wounded eagles for which Gov. Cecil D. Andrus sought new homes have been sent to zoos and sanctuaries throughout the United States.

Three others, too mutilated for public display, have been sent to a wildlife refuge.

The governor's office said Tuesday it had been notified by the Federal Bureau of Sports Fisheries that one golden eagle each has been shipped to zoos in Norristown, Pa., and Baton Rouge, La., and the Hawk Mountain Sanctuary at Allentown, Pa.

A bald eagle was sent to Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Laurel, Md.

Three other birds not to be displayed will be sent to the Camas National Wildlife Refuge near Hamer, Idaho.

Andrus appealed to fellow governors two weeks ago to find homes for the eagles, which had been wounded by careless hunters.

Stout courses set in Appleton

The University of Wisconsin — Stout's Office of Continuing Education will offer five courses at Appleton for the spring semester.

At Appleton High School-West, Foundations of American Industry (190-701) a four-credit course will be offered from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning Jan. 25.

Fox Valley Technical Institute is offering the following courses: Traffic and Highway Safety (110-578) will begin Jan. 25, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. This is a three-credit course.

Preparation of AV Materials (407-561) will begin Jan. 23, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Educational Evaluation (421-641) will begin Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Principles of Vocational, Technical & Adult Education (469-602) also will begin Jan. 25, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The three classes listed above are all two credit courses.

Students may register at the first class meeting.

New York looks ahead to a color-keyed spring

Spring steppin'

Spring footwear will feature real corkers! Heads up styles will put many heads in the clouds while feet stay on the ground. These elevated looks come by way of Verde's avant garde shoes for men with cork-like platform soles and hi-heels.

Pull-together

Shown this week in New York at the New York Couture Business Council's 60th Press Week was a pull-together combo by David Crystal, color-keyed and double-knit.

Denim

The Denim Council fashion show in New York pronounced "Demin is ... for lovers only" and the love of denim seems to be everpresent. Shown are a travelling jacket and low rise flared leg jeans by Levi Strauss.

Sitting pretty

Antique hunting brings together the fondness of classics, and the self-belted shirtdress is an oldie that's always a goodie. The sportive style is from Cintura Knits.

Sweater dressing

This two-part ensemble by Rodrigues for the Peter Clements Spring '73 collection features an orange knitted cardigan coat cut like a sweater over a multi-orange jersey gown. Hidden is the bare suspender back.

Getting together

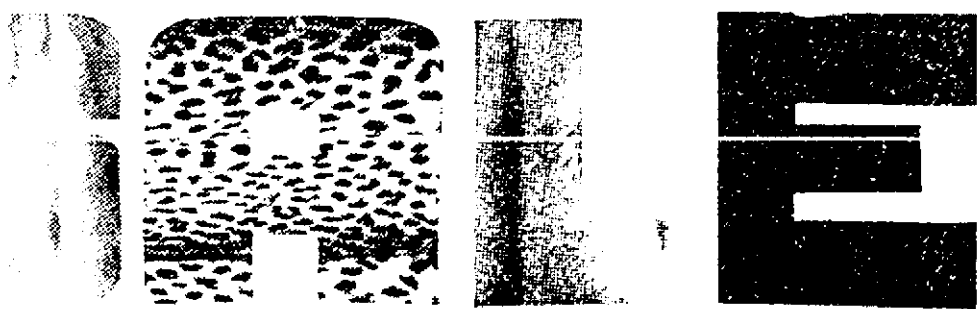

Togetherness ... in both foot comfort and the right fashion direction is evidenced by this Hush Puppie-wearing couple. His are slip-ons of gunsmoke brushed pigskin. Hers are classic camel speed-lacer oxfords.
